Council on Human Relations Strives to Lessen Tensions at PHS

"We spent one whole day at Princeton High — from 7:30 in the morning — and we realized for the first time how complex the tensions are. There's no single reason for tension, and certainly no push-button solution. But there ARE things we can do!"

The speaker is Raymond F. Male, chairman of the 15-member Advisory Council on Human Relations, appointed by the school board in late March to ferret out the reasons for lack of human communication and understanding in the schools, and make practical, concrete recommendations.

The 15 spent Tuesday, May 8, at PHS. Singly, or in three or four groups, the members talked with students and staff. They sat in the crowded cafeteria early in the morning and at lunch periods. Mr. Male moved among students who were outside around the flagpole, or passing through the corridors.

With Florence Burke, assistant PHS principal and a member of the group, Mr. Male selected 50 students from as broad a cross-section as could possibly be chosen (and the group will see even more students, when school begins again in the fall.)

"Fewer students than we hoped came up voluntarily to talk to us," he acknowledges." But we sent for enough students so we learned a lot."

What did they learn?

"Polarization!" Mr. Male exclaims. "You could slice it with a knife! And not necessarily black-white."

The committee found polarization between teacher-teacher, teacher-student, school-town, student-student. Older teachers with a traditional approach against younger teachers; college-bound students, both black and white, against kids who aren't going to college; and of course, the classic student-teacher stand-off.

Almost as strong, at least in Mr. Male's view, is the sheer physical impact of a whole day, day after day, in the present over-crowded old high school building.

"Noise, frustration, narrow corridors that bounce back the noise, not enough space to eat — do people realize the first lunch period starts at 10:42 and the last one not until 1?" Mr. Male is incredulous, "and all the students — all of them, of every kind told us there was no quiet place to study except the over-crowded library which isn't designed for study, anyway, but for research. How can you study in an auditorium seat, when the choir is practicing and carpenters are hammering a set for a school play?"

Mr. Male looks forward to an in-depth meeting with consultants studying the future of the high-school building.

"Teaching and curriculum, I think, create more tension than, say, race," is Mr. Male's view. "So many kids have a fundamental defect: they can't read. If you're in high school and can't read at that level, you get itchy and this makes tension. The problem is — disabilities begin in early grades. And in high school, especially for the boys, they say if I can't read,

Township to Control Shopping Center Traffic

Township Committee on Monday night moved ahead on Shopping Center traffic control, pulled back from regional sewer action and adjusted the tuning for possible cable television.

Under an ordinance set for public hearing June 18 — to allow time for further pondering — all interior traffic in the Princeton Shopping Center will be subject to Township police control.

Speed will be limited to 15 m.p.h. New guidelines and directional arrows will be painted — and enforced with traffic tickets. Bikes will be prohibited in the mall. Parking will be prohibited against the building and in other areas — and enforced with traffic tickets.

"This is an historic moment," commented Mayor Jay Bleiman. "The situation in the Center has been very disorderly."

Deliveries a Problem. One problem comes from supermarket loading. A concrete-embedded hoist recently installed by the A & P for back-unloading trucks can't very well be changed so that trucks won't block a vehicle way, said Committee member Barbara Smoyer.

An A & P spokesman told Committee he gets main deliveries four times weekly at 10 p.m., and meat deliveries at 7.30 a.m. But sometimes, when there is a warehouse backlog, deliveries come during the day.

Thomas Fulmer, a Township resident with a business before Committee, suggested blocking off permanently the section where the A & P unloads, and thereby diverting round-the-Center cars to the outer rim, next to the Grover Avenue playground.

Amendments related to these unloading problems may be introduced, Committeemen said.

Under terms of the ordinance, the Center will pay half the costs of paint work and so on, will buy bicycle racks and will take care of maintenance.

Mayor Bleiman said Committee regarded the ordinance as "only a first step, and not definitive," but important because it allows police, for the first time, to patrol Center traffic.

Wait, on Sewers. On the brink of adopting a resolution of intent to approve the seventh draft of a service contract with the Stony Brook Regional Sewer Authority, Committee deferred action until June 4 after Mr. Sutphin raised the question, "Suppose the Environmental Assessment Report isn't satisfactory to US?"

The resolution's language said the contract would be subject to a "satisfactory" environmental study, but Mr. Sutphin persisted in asking "Satisfactory to whom?"

Public hearing on the environmental report will be held Thursday, June 14 in Borough Hall, and the Townships Authority representative Dean Chace, urged Committee action by that date.

Mayor Bleiman read a list of both Borough and Township residents appointed to a new advisory committee charged with investigating cable TV so thoroughly that the Princeton community can act intelligently when companies ask for a franchise.

This Is Princeton

Chairman will be Howard C. Peterson III. Other members are Jean Firstenberg, 139 Fitzrandolph Road, the Rev. Floyd Rhodes of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church; Walter Seligman, assistant superintendent of the Princeton Medical Center; Kenneth Bowers, media specialist for the Princeton Regional Schools; Morris Mayers, educational television consultant, Herbert Abelson, president of Response Analysis Corporation, Theresa Critchlow, staff member of the Princeton Public Library; and Barbara Leipendorf, lawyer on the staff of Princeton University. A representative of the business community will be announced later.

Park and Sup. Parking snarls at the new Rusty Scupper restaurant entangled both Committee and members of the audience. Committee acted to ban parking on both sides of Alexander from West Drive north for several hundred feet, and on the south side of Basin Street, to the south of the restaurant.

The restaurant's location on a curving, narrow — 29 feet wide — section of Alexander has meant proliferating parking problems and the Scupper is acquiring additional land for parking spaces. The land is not in the flood plain, and state and Township are agreed that it is not and even if it were, parking is a permitted use in the flood plain.

But state engineers have asked for more maps so they can align the varying contour lines that exist on several maps. Until state approved — and the Scupper's attorney A.C. Reeves Hicks estimated 60 days — the restaurant can't process its new parking area.

Seconding the mayor's motion of thanks, Mr. Sutphin read a lengthy list of Dr. Breese's accomplishments in urban planning, and told Committee, "We have paid people like this to be our planning consultants, but he has served us voluntarily. I cannot overstate our debt to him."

Dr. Breese joined the Township Planning Board in 1954 and served for ten years, including four as chairman. He has been on the Regional Planning Board since its formation in January, 1970, and re-joined the Township Planning Board serving until its dissolution last year.

Boland Smith, 38 Pardee Circle, demanded to know how the Scupper "got by the zoning and planning boards. The restaurant's traffic impact was underestimated and mis-represented."

The Scupper complied with zoning regulations on number of parking spaces, explained Committeeman William Sutphin, adding that the minimum requirements in the law may be too low. He assured Mr. Smith that the restaurant had never asked to have parking requirements reduced.

More Sewers Wanted. Mr. Fulmer, who offered the suggestion about Shopping Center traffic, finally got his turn, and asked Committee to include sewers for all of Autumn Hill instead of just the western section, in its capital program.

Mayor Bleiman announced the resignation from the Regional Planning Board of Gerald Breese, urban sociologist at the University, who is accepting an assignment abroad.

WANT TO SERVE?

Openings, Appointments. Vacancies exist for various jobs in Borough and Township and applications are welcome, the two mayors say.

The confirmation of Borough - Township Magistrate Theodore T. Tams as a judge of the Superior Court leaves both Princetons looking for a magistrate. Borough Mayor Robert W Cawley said this week that he would like another joint magistrate, shared with the Township. Several people have already applied, he said.

Three positions are open for Borough residents. The death of Dr J Leonard Moore leaves a vacancy on the Board of Health, and there are also openings on the Civil Rights Commission and the Recreation Commission.

In the Township, Mayor Jay Bleiman named Dan Sawyer, 5 G Hibben Apartments, to the Citizens Advisory Committee on Housing, replacing Mrs. Dannie Kennedy. Mr. Sawyer, manager of electronic data processing in the University's New South building, has been active in the Black Caucus organization.

Mayor Bleiman also named structural engineer Lee Cleveland, 169 Meadowbrook, to the Building Board of Appeals, replacing Herbert Kendall; Walton Johnson, 243 Ewing, Rutgers sociology professor, to the Civil Rights Commission replacing David Rahr and William O'Shaughessy, 35 Clover Lane alternate member of the Zoning Board, to full member replacing Everett P Garretson. Mr Garretson has resigned because he is running for Township Committee.

The Township vacancy on the Regional Planning Board caused by the resignation of Gerald Breese has not yet been filled.

Human Relations Group Is Wide Cross-Section

Members of the Human Relations Council represent every part of Princeton and every shade of belief and principle. They have met every Tuesday from 4-6 p.m. since April 10 and according to Raymond F. Male, their chairman, they are a "marching team" in spite of their diversity.

At Mr. Male's request, all Council members have been asking and listening wherever they are — in line at the post office, at a dinner party, in the supermarket, in the office — "How do you feel about human relations at the high school?"

A school library on John Counts, a Council member, has assembled a library of monographs, books and reports for the group to use. Members have examined other school systems with problems like Trenton's, and Trenton officials have asked to see Princeton's final report.

At Princeton High and the Middle School, group members looked for alert, articulate students, and before school resumes in the fall five students will be named to the group.

Members, besides Mr. Male, are Florence Burke, Leslie Vivian, Patricia Van Ness, Dorothea Lummis, John Counts, Frank Francisco, Brinton Whitall, Bonnie Wagner, Elizabeth Bates, Becky Mackey, Edward C. Kopp III, Eleanor Pinelli, Fred Tyler and Richard Harbourt. Joan Hill, new executive director of the Joint Commission on Civil Rights, and Commission member Alfred Campbell, joined the group for its day at the high school.

PHS Human Relations

how can I ever get a job? And I'm convinced this is a root cause of frustration."

All during that Tuesday at PHS, key words recurred, Mr. Male reports: "boredom," "discipline," "respect."

"I didn't know so many kids were bored! But 'respect' is the big thing, and this cuts every way. Students told us a sincere teacher who likes what he's doing and who CARES, can be spotted by the students right away, and he gets a lot more respect than the teacher who has just given up and doesn't care."

Discipline Lacking. Many black students link respect with discipline, the committee found. "They told us they wanted discipline," Mr. Male says. "They told us they weren't made to work and weren't disciplined because teachers didn't care anything about them, and had no respect for them. 'We want teachers to show they care about us by disciplining us,' black kids said." And disciplinary guidelines are not enforced evenly, all students complained.

Teachers protested that students had no respect for teachers, and teachers themselves said of some colleagues, "Those teachers ought to get out of teaching!" The day in PHS was revealing for many of the half-dozen teachers on the Human Relations Council. One high school teacher who spent early morning and lunch in the cafeteria not in the teachers' room and who saw different teachers and students who were strangers, later said,

"Why, I thought I knew this place inside-out, but I saw a Princeton High I never saw before."

There is little student teacher contact, Mr. Male thinks. Teachers familiar with the week long Stokes State Forest trips that the Middle School once had, recalled how warmly student - teacher relationships developed over the week. This pointed to the fact that at Princeton High, there are not even school-wide assemblies to produce a kind of school spirit. Announcements are made coldly over an inter com.

Another divisive influence, many students and teachers said, is the Learning Community. It does provide a sense of "belonging" for its members (except the black ones, apparently), but it is regarded as a privileged group.

Cliques Unimportant. Mr. Male's objection to the Learning Community is that it takes the kind of kid who is a natural leader out of the mainstream of school life.

Cliques? Mr. Male shrugs. "We heard the old stuff about preps, greasers, freaks, blacks, jocks. But we found these lines don't really hold. What about a smart black athlete headed for college, as an example? You just can't draw hard lines."

Kids definitely feel that they bring attitudes from home, the group learned. But the kids also feel that, in spite of their criticisms, the school has strong qualities.

"One girl, after she'd been very critical, remembered a film strip she'd made with some other students, to show entering freshmen," Mr. Male relates.

At the group's request, the student showed the 20-minute film. It featured a sound-track by the Princeton High School Choir and the marching band. It had pictures of athletic events and cheering bleachers, and kids studying on the lawn.

"We saw that film, and we realized just as the student had, that Princeton High is a school with lot of plus-marks, and all the seeds of a great institution."

This week, Human Relations Council members are visiting the Middle School, and eventually will visit all schools. They have met with Superintendent Philip E. McPherson and all the principals. They hope to interview as many students as possible, especially PHS seniors, before the end of the school year.

After a mid-June progress report, they expect to work during the summer, checking off long list of community people: juvenile police officers ("police and schools are on very different wave-lengths," Mr. Male warns); athletic coaches; cafeteria workers; old timers around town and in the school system; newcomers; agencies like Family Service, the Y's, churches, Scouts.

A final report, with concrete proposals, is due the end of October. "Yes," Mr. Male promises, "we can come up with specifics."

Four Students Nabbed in Campus Drug Raid

CAMPUS DRUG RAID HAUL: These bags of marijuana and narcotic paraphernalia were seized by Borough police who conducted a five-pronged drug raid on the Princeton University campus early Tuesday morning. Four students were arrested.

TOPICS Of The Town

Four Princeton University students were arrested early Tuesday morning following a five pronged drug raid conducted by 15 members of the borough police department.

An estimated three pounds of marijuana, hashish and narcotics paraphernalia were seized in four locations. Lt. Theodore Lewis said that the raid was the culmination of a month-long investigation by the police conducted by Detectives Timothy Huizing and Thomas Michaud of the department's narcotics bureau. One officer, he said, purchased a quarter pound of marijuana from one of those arrested during the investigation.

All those arrested are presently free on bail, awaiting a hearing in Borough Court June 20 before Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. Lt. Lewis described the raid as the largest conducted on the campus this year. He estimated the seized marijuana was worth about $1,200 on the street.

Arrested during the 5 a.m raid were Donald W. Pickles, 21, Colonial Club, Prospect Avenue by Det. Huizing, Ptl. Kerry Klink and Ptl. Victor Fasanella. Charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance over 25 grams, maintaining common nuisance. Bail: $1,000.

Thomas Gorman, 21, 4 South Edwards Hall, by Det. Michaud, Ptl. David Lewis and Ptl. Ronald Holliday. Charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance over 25 grams, possession of the same with intent to sell and maintaining a common nuisance. Bail: $1,000.

Charles R. Hickox, 22, 2 North Edwards Hall by Sgt. John Bellow, Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm and Ptl. Bernard Lenhard. Charged with possession, intent to sell a controlled dangerous substance over 25 nuisance. Bail: $2,000.

Bryan McShayne, 19, 15 North Dod Hall by Sgt. Ralph Procaccino, Ptl. Charles Harris and Ptl. Arthur Jackson. Charged with possession and sale of controlled dangerous substance. Bail: $1,000.

In addition, a police team of Sgt. Arthur Gallant, Ptl. Gerald Patterson and Ptl. Robert Muccelarelli raided Room 133 at 1901 Hall, for which, as in the other arrests, they had a search warrant signed by Judge Tams. However, the room was empty and Lt. Lewis reported police made no arrests.

Though the arrests were made at different locations, Lt. Lewis said that he believed all defendants were members of the same drug operation.

TO DISCUSS POLICY

On Personnel Questions. A detailed personnel-policy memo, stipulating among other items, that school employees should keep their personnel problems in strict confidence, was touched on briefly at the school board meeting Tuesday and will be discussed, according to Superintendent Philip E. McPherson, at the next several public meetings through early fall.

Board member Gail Pietrinferno protested that the memo, in declaring that the board should not discuss personnel problems in public, did not define "public." She said the memo could stifle discussion, and perhaps held within its strictures the implication that teachers may not discuss their Board president Hannah Fox said the board needed some kind of policy limiting discussion of personnal matters in public. She pointed out that Mrs. Pietrinferno is chairman of the board's policy committee, and therefore asked her to talk about the memo with Counsel Thomas Cook and make suggestions for revision.

The board voted, 8-0 (William Marvel absent) to take on the High School Equivalency Program now run by the Princeton Adult School. The PAS, operating at a deficit, no longer wants the program but is willing to run it if the schools pick up the tab. The cost will be about $1,000 a year.

The program will be offered tuition free to all students under 20. Over that age, a low tuition will be charged. Superintendent Philip E. McPherson reported that about 10 are enrolled in the program, most of them over the age of 20.

Three schools were renamed (unanimously): Community Park Elementary School, John Witherspoon Middle School and Valley Road Building. At first, the proposal was for "Witherspoon Middle School," but Mrs. Fox proposed to add "John" and her amendment was unanimously adopted.

A summer reading language program, funded with Title 1 money, if approved, was unanimously endorsed by the board. A lengthy list of appointments to staff positions, resignations, stipend appointments and the like, was approved 6-2, Winthrop Pike and Phill Cruickshank voting "no." An earlier vote, when only six board members were present, was ruled invalid because the four affirmatives did not constitute a majority.

Dephyment of staff will be outlined at the June 12 meeting, and at a special meeting Tuesday, June 5, alternative proposals for the Princeton High School building will be explained and public discussion invited.

A proposal by Dr. Patricia Werthelmer, principal of the high school, to combine music, art and home economics under one departmental umbrel la, was tabled until June. The question is whether it is legal to have a supervisor not certified in a particular academic field, for example, a music teacher as head of a department including some economics.

Come to Rent Control Hearing

The Borough's temporary rent-control ordinance will be open for public hearing and comment by landlords, tenants and the public next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

The ordinance, introduced at a special meeting May 15, will be in effect only until September 1. It was introduced because Council fears that some Borough landlords have suddenly increased rents in anticipation of permanent rent control.

Under the proposed measure, a landlord is not prohibited from making rent increases. But he must put the crease into a bank account for the tenant to be held in escrow. If the Borough decides to pass a permanent rent-control law, the tenant will get the money back, with interest, according to whatever the permanent ordinance's provisions are. If no rent control is passed, the landlord will get the money.

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley told his press conference this week that he will appoint two landlords as additional members on the seven-member Housing Advisory Council. The names are expected to be announced by Tuesday's hearing.

$286.50 IS STOLEN

From Doctor's Office. A thief stole $286.50 last week from a top desk drawer in the office suite of Dr. C. G. Clark in the Princeton Medical Arts Building on Witherspoon St. The desk was unlocked.

Township police said that the office suite of Dr. W. F. Haynes Jr. was also entered and disturbed but nothing was taken. There were no signs of forced entry anywhere, police said.

Tape Deck Taken. A tape deck and speaker valued at $51.95 were stolen last week from a car owned by Cullen Dwyer, 17, 126 Meadowbrook Drive.

The articles were taken from the glove compartment of Mr. Dwyer's unlocked car which had been parked overnight in the driveway next to his house. The victim told police that he had just recently mounted the tape deck in the glove compartment so it would not be noticeable, and he said that the thief probably knew that it was there.

OFFICES ARE TARGET

Of Energetic Burglar. An enterprising burglar armed only with a quarter-inch screwdriver entered at least three office buildings during the weekend and more than a dozen offices, leaving Borough police weary trying to keep up with his escapades.

His most profitable stop was in the 20 Nassau Street building, a honeycomb of stores and offices, some fronting on Chambers Street. At the second floor office of Ditmars & Carmichael, consulting engineers, he wielded his screwdriver to pry open a black metal cash box in a filing cabinet containing $350, leaving behind $15 in change. He also took a $200 Polaroid camera. Two secretary's desks were also rifled, police said.

The basement office of Richard Chorlton, architect, yielded $27.54 taken from desk drawers and cabinets that had been pried open. From architect John R. Diehl's office, he took $7 in cash from a secretary's desk, leaving $2 in coins behind. The office door had been pried open by a screwdriver.

The door of the office of Lawrence Associates was jimmied open but apparently nothing was taken from the fourth floor office. Lt. Theodore Lewis reported that the third floor office of E.D. Sayer was entered via the same screwdriver but nothing was taken.

Between 12 noon Saturday and 9 Monday morning, when they were reported, an attempt was made to enter six offices in the One Palmer Square office building. All were unsuccessful.

Again, the same instrument—a small screwdriver—was used, Lt. Lewis said.

At 191 Nassau Street, attempts to enter six offices on the second and third floors also failed. However, two were successfully broken into on the third floor but nothing was taken.

STEREO SYSTEM STOLEN

"Bugged" Speaker Triggers Alarm. Pieces of an expensive stereo system valued at $1685.50 were stolen early Friday morning from the Quadrangle Club, 33 Prospect Avenue.

The loss might hve been greater but one of the speakers had been "bugged", setting off an alarm upstairs. Several valuable pieces of the system were left behind, police said. A $500 tape deck and a $210 turntable were recovered under bushes by a stone wall of the Ivy Club.

A 'Ross' (Not Betsy) Designs Township Flag

For some time, Township police and various municipal officials have wanted a flag, something to bear proudly on such stirring occasions as Memorial Day parades. They had an American flag, of course, a New Jersey flag, indeed. But not a Township standard.

Also, mayors perform frequent marriages and Mayor Jay Bleiman says he and his predecessors have never had an official seal to thwack onto a marriage certificate proving both legality and permanence.

Committeeman Abbot Low Moffat has a friend, E. Hunter Ross of 68 Wheatsheaf Lane, who is both a taxpayer and an expert in heraldry. The result is an official Township flag and seal, introduced by ordinance Monday night for adoption, and presented to the municipality as Mr. Ross' contribution.

The emblem is blue and gold. Blue, which is the official color of New Jersey (and of Princeton High School); gold, which is well, gold. The top blue band, black in the drawing shown here, has three stars to remind residents that New Jersey was the third state to adopt the U. S. Constitution.

The center strip is white ermine, symbolizing the Township's beginnings along the regal strip that was the King's Highway and is now Route 27, the Princeton-Kingston Road. The bottom blue segment has the kind of crown worn by a "Prince." On the flag, there is a white bordering band, suggesting the Township's position as an encircling community.

"All the symbolism is equally applicable to the Borough," declared Mayor Bleiman triumphantly, "so when we consolidate, we can all have the same flag!"

"We've already got a flag," said Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley the next day.

"I'm not sure I like this regal, princely stuff," said Committeeman William Stuphin grumpily, peering at all the ermine paving on the Princeton - Kingston Road. "We're supposed to be a government of the people."

But he joined in Committee's unanimous adoption.

A wag in Monday night's audience pointed to other symbolism in the design. The flag's division into thirds suggests the present formula by which Borough and Township share expenses: two - thirds Township, one-third Borough.

The seal will be used, not only to firm up marriage contracts, but to serve as a decal marking Township vehicles and other property. It may also serve as an insignia on uniforms. The Betsy Ross who will run all this up, has not been named. It may be done by a citizens committee.

Mr. Ross (who has no relatives named Betsy) has furnished description of flag and seal in heraldic terms:

"Azure, a fess ermine, between in chief three mullets argent and in base a prince's coronet or, a bordure argent."

Public hearing is June 4.

lice converged on the Club and was not in operation, acwithout success. The system, which had been used at Forrestal, was owned by the Club and searched the area cording to Sgt. Arthur Gallant, the investigating officer.

A fire escape was apparently used to enter a second-floor window, he said. The stereo components were then carried out the front door. Most of them had been carted off when the bugged speaker alarm sounded. Sgt. Gallant placed the theft at approximately 4:10 a.m. Police were notified at 5:40.

Student's Stereo Taken A stereo receiver and changer valued at $459 were stolen Friday from Room 212 in Pyne Hall.

Police quoted the owner, John Lytton as saying he left his room at 8:55 in the morning and when he returned at 5:30, the set was missing. He told police he had left his window open.

A $125 portable TV set was stolen from a second floor rear bedroom last week at 32 Witherspoon Lane. Police identified the owner as Lourd Nathan. There was no forced entry.

EIGHT ARE FINED

For Careless Driving. Eight Princeton area residents were fined last week by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. for careless driving, four Monday in Borough court and four last week in Township court. Each was fined $15.

In Borough court: Christoph Golden, 18, 233 Washington Road, who also had his license suspended for 10 days; Frances J. Luquer, 68, 48 Parkside Drive; Barbara J. Andrew, 24, 34 Vandeventer Avenue; and Morris Boyd, 52, 47 Leigh Avenue. In Township court: Bansang W. Lee, 23, Electrical Engineering Department, Princeton University; Irene G. Pace, 50, RD 3, Princeton; William H. Tegarden, 19, 25 Edwards Place; and Wanda M. Mendez, 51, 169 Snowden Lane.

Others fined in Borough court were Mary E. Coleman, 47, Stonicker Drive, Lawrence Township, $17, and Anthony Vaccaro, 54, Port Mercer Rd., $15, both for speeding; Judith Renschel, 51, 123 Randall Rd., $15, obstructing passage; and Phyllis M Furley, 48, 76 Alexander Street, $15, red light.

Others fined in Township court include Albert Leftwich, 20, Lewisville Road, Lawrenceville, $5, no license, registration in possession, and Janet Rightmire, 18, Griggstown Road, Belle Mead. Miss Rightmire paid $10 for not wearing glasses and $15 for failing to yield while entering or leaving a roadway from a private drive.

In Township criminal court, Perry Evans, Princeton University student, charged with three counts of possession of a controlled dangerous substance in excess of 25 grams, waived a probable cause hearing. He was referred to a

VW CATCHES FIRE

Has To Be Towed Away. A 1969 Volkswagen owned by Frank C. Masterson of Short Hills caught fire Monday a few minutes before noon on Route 206 near Ewing Street.

Two pieces of fire equipment, one from Engine No. 1 and one from Mercer No. 3 were dispatched by Township police to extinguish the blaze. "It was really burning," said an officer.

The disabled car was towed away. Cause of the fire was not known, police said.

MORE PARKING PLANNED

For Commuters at Junction. The New Jersey Department of Transportation will receive bids May 31 on a contract to construct a commuter parking lot at the Penn-Central Railroad passenger station at Princeton Junction, to relieve congested parking facilities there.

Public transportation bond funds will be used to construct a new blacktop parking facility to provide parking for an additional 361 cars. The 80 parking spaces available to commuters in the commercial lots are inadequate, and many motorists have been parking in unauthorized locations on nearby streets.

There will be nighttime illumination in the lot and on new stairs and pedestrian ramps leading to the station platform. A 1,200 foot long bituminous concrete access road will be constructed to connect the lot with Alexander Road. Entrance and exit ramps will permit an orderly flow of cars into and out of the lot via the new road.

Upon completion of the project, tentatively scheduled for October, the access road will become a local street and the parking lot will be operated and maintained by the West Windsor Parking Authority. It is to be a non-profit operation under terms of an agreement between the State and the Authority. Parking fees collected must be used to maintain the parking facility.

CAR HITS POLE, TREE

Driver Charged. A Borough resident was charged with drunken driving Friday evening after his car went out of control on Hodge Road and struck a Public Service pole and an apple tree.

The driver, John G. Thompson, 31, 195 Nassau Street, refused medical aid for small lacerations of the head and hand. The entire right side and front of his small foreign car were damaged.

According to police, Mr. Thompson's car jumped the curb near Library Place, struck the pole, glanced off and continued across Hodge Road and onto the lawn at 57 Hodge, ramming a large apple tree on the property of James Scarff.

He was ticketed by Sgt. Ralph Proscaccino. The mishap took place at 10:15 p.m.

Two drivers sustained minor injuries following an intersection crash late Friday morning at N. Harrison and Terhune Road. There were no summonses issued by Ptl. John Hammond.

Richard D. Smith 23, 236 Nassau Street, received a puncture wound of the arm and laceration of the nose. The other driver, Laura S. Klinger, 66, 71 Quaker Road, suffered a contusion of the knee. Her small foreign car was extensively damaged and had to be towed away.

The Klinger car was stopped in the intersection next to an island on N. Harrison. The Smith car was traveling north on Harrison about 25 miles an hour when the collision took place.

Last Wednesday afternoon, two women were hurt when their cars collided at Witherspoon Street and Valley Road.

Kathleen Lucia, 48, of Skillman was transported by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad to Princeton Medical Center where she was treted for a fractured leg and kneecap and lacerations. Ten sutures were needed to close a laceration of her scalp.

Eleanor S. Graver 43, Cherry Brook Drive, was taken by Township police to the Center for treatment of a laceration of her thigh. Both cars had to be towed away.

Ptl. Marin Mosso ticketed Mrs. Lucia who had just turned onto Valley from the Great Road, for failing to stop. She told him she was on her way to the Shopping Center but didn't remember anything else after turning.

Lawns Damaged. Sometime Saturday morning, a car went off the road and damaged three lawns on Poe Road.

In addition to damaging two trees, the car left 198 feet of lawn damage at 128 Poe Road, 123 feet at 123 Poe and 20 feet at 124 Poe. Among the debris found by the police at the scene were three Ford wheel covers, a radiator cap and a piece of simulated wood moulding. Also, eight cans of beer.

Township police believe the car was a late model, light blue Ford station wagon.

Hot Line Pays Dividend

The hot line telephone number put into operation last fall by Chief Michael Carnevale and listed each week in TOWN TOPICS is paying dividends.

Last week, someone called to disclose where police could locate a piece of stolen stereo equipment. As a result of information supplied by the caller, Det. Thomas Michaud conducted an investigation which ended in an arrest.

The piece of stereo equipment, which had been taken in a theft in February at a Princeton University dormitory, was recovered.

The hot line number — 924-8221 — is in operation 24 hours a day. Callers need not identify themselves. Their information is recorded on tape and checked out each morning by police.

University Takes a Studied Look at the Future

A relatively small institution, with a diverse student population whose members work closely with a community of teaching scholars eager to transmit their own advancing knowledge and to stimulate students to continue, throughout life, a lively interest in the life of the mind. . .

That's the picture of Princeton University in the future, as it emerges in sharp focus from the 436 page Bressler report released this month. The 19 members of the Commission have worked since 1970 on the request of former University President Robert F. Goheen to make "a major review of undergraduate education at Princeton."

Marvin Bressler

Commission members, eight of the original 19 served for the entire study period, included men and women undergraduates, senior and junior faculty, administrators, graduate school representatives and members of minority groups. Chairman Marvin Bressler is a professor of sociology.

The size and composition of Princeton's undergraduate body were uppermost in the minds of those on the Commission. They have recommended an undergraduate body of 4,400, which is close to the number Princeton will probably have by the fall of 1974 and about 300 more than the current enrollment of 4,140.

4,000 Or 4,800? At first, the Commission set a minimum of 4,000 students and a maximum of 4,800, but finally concluded that neither extreme would be economically feasible. Also, the minimum could require curtailment of both academic and extra-curricular activities, and the maximum would bring "an almost certain loss in the scale and sense of the Princeton University community."

The 4,400 undergraduate body would be composed of about 3,200 men and 1,200 women. The Commission recommends a policy of "equal access" in admitting men and women, to replace the quota system that has existed since the first women were admitted in 1969.

Quotas by sex may shortly be of questionable legality, for one thing the report predicts, but beyond that, Commission members see a general change: "the concept of treating men and women equally has established itself powerfully in the past three or four years."

At present, the University gives special consideration to four categories of students who apply: sons and daughters of alumni, applicants with unusual athletic ability, minority students and engineering school candidates. These commitments should be maintained, the report emphasizes, but such a list should be kept as short as possible so that admissions officers can "choose that individual for the peculiar excellence which he or she would bring to Princeton."

Examining present students and applicants, the Commission found that not only are present undergraduates "extremely able and energetic," but that the number of freshmen could be doubled without diluting the quality of the freshman class.

Learning From Each Other. The University is seen by Commission members as a place where students can learn from one another. They will learn best, the report declares, "When they are exposed to a heterogeneous population rather than to a narrow sample drawn from a restricted universe. The college years should rescue undergraduates from the parochialisms of birth and station."

And in a somewhat rueful comment, observes that the University still has a negative "Princeton image." "The ghost of F. Scott Fitzgerald is not easily laid to rest," the Commission feels, and urges more effort to tell the world how the University has initiated "important needed changes."

The report also underscores the belief of Commission members that it is important for women and for members of cultural minorities to have models in both faculty and administration, whom these students can respect and emulate. "The University should continue and intensify its efforts to identify qualified members of minority groups and women as prospective administrators and faculty," is the recommendation.

An earlier, interim report by the Bressler Commission had suggested a three-year undergraduate program. The proposal was widely discussed, but many faculty and students expressed serious reservations, and the current, final report concedes that "formal establishment of a three-year program would be unwise at this time."

Opponents were uneasy about pressures of such a program on students to choose a major field of study before they were ready, and also of the effect of a shorter period on academic quality.

In other recommendations, the Commission urged stronger counselling services for students; formation of a student-faculty committee to work out ways other than grades, for evaluating academic performance; development of an expanded program in drama; requirements for proficiency in a foreign language, one semester of English composition, and courses in natural sciences; but otherwise retention of all the major components of the current program.

VIOLATIONS CHARGED To Queenston Common Builder. The Division of Water Resources of the state's Department of Environmental Protection and Friends of the Princeton Environment have charged the builder of Queenston Common with violating the approved encroachment line of Harry's Brook which runs through the project.

In addition, both agencies charge that construction fill and debris have been placed within the reserved strip on both sides of the brook. In a letter to William C. Baggett, attorney for Queenston Common, the state agency in March gave the builder 20 days to remove the fill and debris and regrade the banks and side slopes to a maximum grade of 1 vertical on 2 horizontal.

The stream encroachment permit granted by the Division of Water Resources in 1971 stipulated that no fill or structures were to be placed within a 40 foot path centered over the stream. Representatives of the Division inspected the site this spring and recorded depths of fill within the encroachment strip to 12 feet and six to eight feet.

Borough Engineer Donald Harney reported that the builder has since been granted an extension until June 4 to correct the situation or produce detailed plans of alternative solutions.

Some of the alternatives being considered are extending an existing culvert to enclose the brook and add fill above it, building decks instead of patios on the units facing the brook or building a retaining wall along the north bank of the brook. Mr. Harney said that the builder informed him it would be impossible to regrade "one on two" the slope that runs next to the "A" building which is located between the Brook and Hamilton Avenue.

Failure to remove the encroachments, say the Friends of the Princeton Environment, may make adjoining properties vulnerable to flooding, erosion and silting.

ENCROACHMENT NOW, TROUBLE LATER: Encroachment of the flood plain of Harry's Brook has caused considerable trouble to Township residents in the past. The Friends of the Princeton Environment are pressing Borough officials to see that such problems do not occur at the construction site of Queenston Common, the 76-unit condominium being erected off Harrison Street through which Harry's Brook flows. Picture above by the state's Division of Water Resources shows that fill and debris have been placed along the banks in violation of a 40-foot reserved strip of land centered over the Brook. Story, this page.

Mr. Baggett will appear before the Borough Zoning Board Thursday to seek permission to construct overhanging decks for the 12 units of the A building instead of patios.

TAMS A COUNTY JUDGE Replacement Search Is On. Theodore T. Tams, Jr., who has been the Borough's judge for 15 years and the Township's for the past six months, will leave both positions some time this summer to sit on the Mercer County bench.

Both municipalities will accordingly seek a replacement for him, and very possibly both will agree on one man to serve them. It is by no means certain, however, that a joint selection committee will be appointed.

Judge Tams has said that it will require about two months for him to put affairs in his law practice in order so that he can begin to serve in the county position, which was confirmed Monday by the State Senate. He also plans to resign as a director of the First National Bank of Princeton.

OFFICES? Decision In June. After a four hour hearing Thursday night the Township Zoning Board announced it will decide next month the fate of a pair of two story office buildings proposed for North Harrison and Valley Road. The developers need a variance because their project is in a residential zone.

Opponents of the project, about 15 of them, told the Zoning Board the offices would bring additional traffic and noise into the residential neighborhood.

Steve Slaby, 169 Ewing St., a frequent opponent over the years of various non-residential projects proposed for the area, described the office buildings as a "detriment" to the residential character of the neighborhood.

Dr. Arnold Hirsch and Dr. Robert Albahaty are the developers. Their supporters told the board it was no longer economically feasible to build the modestly priced homes for which the area is zoned. They suggested that office buildings would provide a buffer between the area's homes and the Princeton Shopping Center across Harrison.

HALL IS EMPTIED By Bomb Threat. A bomb threat call made at 9:17 Friday night forced University security officers to empty Alexander Hall where Angela Davis was speaking on "Racism & Repression."

University proctor searched the building without finding a bomb. An audience of some 900 persons heard Miss Davis speak but was evacuated before the scheduled question and answer period.

HOP A JITNEY? Proposal Revived. An old time table, with departures from outlying parking lots into Princeton via jitney, has been revived for re-examination by the Joint Transportation Commission. The Commission itself, as a matter of fact, has been revived for the purpose of such a study.

Borough Mayor Cawley said this week that the Regional Planning Board has always favored outlying parking lots with jitney service into town, as one solution to the parking problem. Economic details, he conceded, haven't yet been studied.

Next month, the Planning Board may receive the revision, prepared at the board's request, of Central Business District plans, but the mayor said "revisions won't be that dramatic."

Traffic changes caused by the closing of Palmer Square "have not been as horrendous as expected," the mayor observed, but comments he has received on the closing of Palmer Square have been "mostly negative."

BIRTHS Twenty Eight Are Born. Seventeen boys and eleven girls were born last week at Princeton Medical Center.

Daughters were born to: Mr. and Mrs. Garth St. Omer, Lawrence Apartments, May 12; Mr. and Mrs. Lopsung Charing, Manlove Avenue, Hightstown, May 13; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Press, Airport Road, Hightstown; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haeffele, 14 Hickory Hill Drive, Trenton,

Male Bastion Stands Firm

The Board of Trustees of The Lawrenceville School has rejected a proposal from its Instruction and Discipline Committee that the Board approve the principle of coeducation for Lawrenceville and authorize the undertaking of a feasibility study.

"The question of coeducation at the 163-year old boys' private school has been under study by the Instruction and Discipline Committee and a special sub-committee since the fall of 1970. Edmund N. Carpenter II, vice president of the Board, stated. "The Board felt the strengths of remaining a boys' school for the time being outweigh the possible gains from becoming educational, though they know that coeducation will continue to be a matter of concern and intend to remain fully alert to the possibilities."

Headmaster Bruce McClellan, echoing this sentiment, said "I think many members of the Board feel we have a good thing going now and that many of our strengths would be modified if we went coed."

Good, Clean Dastardly Villainy in 'Belle'

UNHAND HER, YOU VILLAIN! Belle, who rarely seems to be anywhere near her typewriter, is being — well, protected, probably — by Edward, from the umbrella-waving Abe. All are in "Belle the Typewriter Girl, or the Vampires of Chicago," the 40th anniversary production of Princeton Community Players. Rita Rofe is the heroine; Jim Hopkins is her protector and Allan Solkin is Abe.

"Ten, Twenty, Thirty" In the early years of this century that was a slogan which came to be synonymous with melodrama and referred to the prices of admission on the theatrical thriller circuit.

Like everything else the price of admission has gone up, but no one should complain at having to pay more than 30 cents to see "Belle, the Typewriter Girl" as produced by the Princeton Community Players at the Little Theatre of the Unitarian Church this weekend.

"Belle" will play again this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, all at 8:30 p.m.

The production calls to mind another theatrical motto of the period, "We entertain millions yearly with clean plays only" — give or take a little violence, perhaps. But even the violence is good clean fun, for in the tradition we may always be assured that Good will overcome all else, and the virtue of the heroine will be retained, as no less than Heaven Itself protects her, with a little help from the hero, of course.

Belle, the Typewriter Girl has even more help than that, however. She is surrounded by a Hero, a Mysterious Stranger in the form of another Good Guy, and a Repentant Bad Guy, not to mention her honorable Widowed Mother and the Memory of Her Father, who would have died rich — except that The Villain swindled him out of his diamonds.

Giving away the plot? No matter. What does matter is how Belle is almost lost to us all as The Villain sets his lecherous eyes on her. Oh yes. Sex does play a prominent role in melodrama, but only in the eyes of the villain. The Heroine has no time for such thoughts, for she is much too preoccupied trying to maintain all of her many virtues.

Sex does play a prominent role in melodrama, but only in the eyes of the villain. The Heroine has no time for such thoughts, for she is much too preoccupied trying to maintain all of her many virtues.

If he spent more than three days writing any of these, or perhaps even all of them, he was probably wasting his time. That too, is unimportant, for these plays were formula scripts such as still exist in television soap operas today. And they were churned out just as quickly.

To celebrate the fortieth anniversary of the Princeton Community Players, director Herbert McAneny has revived the script of "Belle" for the fourth time in the history of the organization. He has directed each production, and each has had a different cast. The earlier casts were no doubt as able as is the director, but this cast would be a difficult one to surpass.

Jim Marvel is as properly villainous as one can possibly imagine, from his bent-over walking posture to his evil laugh. One would be ill advised to ever make an appointment to meet him at an old mill, as our heroine does, do, day or night. And Rita Rofe as the lovely heroine surely keeps Belle in her immortal place among her sisters Nellie the Beautiful Cloak Model, Bertha the Sewing Machine Girl, and — what's this? Edna, the Typewriter Girl? These ladies surely have more in common than that they were all contemporaries.

Salkin Top Actor. Marie Miller and Ed Hunt perform well as Belle's good parents, and Rip Pellaton may be the cleanest-cut hero since Van Johnson came to our attention in the '40s. Acting honors of the evening must go to Allan Salkin as Abe Cohen (a man with a good mine to sell, the program tells us), although Jim Hopkins almost succeeds in stealing the show as well as the heroine and her father's diamonds.

As though all of this weren't entertaining enough, Mr. McAnany has assembled further talent to give us Betty Goida at the piano and oliss between the acts of the play. Especially charming are Sara McPhee and Jenn Rosenbluth demurely singing "Glowworm" and of course the medley of songs sung by Helen Lind. All of the specialty acts call to mind yet another "Ten, Twenty, Thirty" circuit slogan: "The play's the thing with a little good vaudeville."

On its 40th anniversary then, even as Heaven protects the working girl, may it continue also to protect Herbert McAnany and all of his friends at the Princeton Community Players. A community theatre which has furnished its supporters with the high quality of plays and productions as this group has given Princeton is a treasure indeed.

Welcome Aboard

by BUNNY STEIN

Argentina is a large country stretching from the semi-tropics in the north to the Antarctic in the South, from the Andes to the South Atlantic. Argentina is a legendary country containing such opposites as the great city of Buenos Aires and the fertile Pampa, a plain which extends to hundreds of miles west and south of Buenos Aires. Whether it is the cosmopolitan life of a great city or the more historic and peaceful pastimes of the Pampa or mountain hotel life, Argentina is an ideal place to visit!

There are many wonderful countries to visit. Plan your next trip with the assistance of WELCOME ABOARD TRAVEL CENTER 29 Witherspoon Street. When it comes to dining out, Europe is simply outstanding. Whether you are in Paris or Pisa, Europeans take their food seriously. Once you have sampled the wonders which await you, you will too. Call 921-4350. Open Monday-Friday 9-5:30, Saturday 10-2.

HELPFUL HINT: When travelling with baby, always carry fruit and cookies; they make great snacks and help to pass travel time cheerfully.

WE'RE A FOUNTAIN: "Look at the structure, see how you could fit in, then join it and be a fountain," are the words of teacher Peggy Henning to sixth-graders at the Princeton Middle School, exploring movement in a creative theatre class. Sometimes the theme of their living sculpture is "hands," sometimes "head." One hilarious occason, it was "rear-ends."

Pre-Teens Create, Develop In School's Theatre Course

Creative dramatics is helping pre-teens at Princeton's Middle School strengthen their ability to communicate thoughts and feelings to other people. A nine-week course called "Creative Theatre" is a required subject for all sixth graders, who meet with the teacher two and three times a week in a cycle schedule.

"Sixth graders are new in this school, fresh out of elementary school," explains the teacher, Peggy Henning, "by requiring them to take this course, we give them a place where it's safe to express the fears they may feel about this big, new school, a place where it's OK to 'play,' the way you did when you were a little kid in fifth grade."

Seventh and eighth graders may elect Creative Theatre and for these older students, the course is more structured leading toward exploration of traditional theater.

Sixth graders, around 11 years old, do movement exercises, like the one in the photo, in which they are "fountains."

"Hands!" Mrs. Henning will say. And the boys and girls will form a "living sculpture" in which hands predominate. "Don't all rush in at once: see how the form is, and how you yourself could fit in."

This youngest class also works out themes, like "Little Kids" or "Old People" (Asked to define "old," sixth graders will say, "Well, 21 is pretty old.") "Pressures" will show teacher, principal, mother, little brother, each pressing in on the sixth grader in the hot seat.

Not For Everyone. "Not every child will participate," the teacher says. "For some, these games and themes are too threatening and would reveal too much the child wants to hide. And you cannot, must not push those kids. Also, I feel strongly that drama should never, never, be anything but elective beyond sixth-grade."

Boy - girl mixes cannot be forced, either. Mrs. Henning believes. She will say, to the probable consternation of women's lib, "Now, all girls on one side, all boys on another!" explaining in an aside, "Boys' creative dramatics is always more violent than girls'."

News Of The Theatres

We always point out that 'you aren't fighting — you are INTERPRETING a fight' and this is important.

What is even more important, Mrs. Henning and the Middle School staff have found, is that some kids function in that sixth-grade theatre class, who don't function anywhere else. "I can see the way a kid operates here, and KNOW he is capable. And his peers — the boys and girls he goes to school with, will say 'Hey, I didn't know Joe had all those ideas' and they look at him with new respect. But this is not, most emphatically not, a class for therapy. It's for creativity."

And with a mischievous grin, she adds, "There is a difference between chaos and creativity! Sometimes my classes are noisy —! But when it spills out of creativity and into chaos — we stop."

A Chance to Create. In the second year, when students can choose many of them elect to go on Improvisational playwriting then takes over.

"This is writing, but not on paper," says Mrs. Henning. "It's the building-in of language skills, the skill to develop character and ideas. They'll take a story from English class, or something from social studies, vote on whether to make a play, and then go ahead."

"Ages of Man," was one idea from social studies, but a difficult concept to bring into focus. After discussion — and vote: everything is subject to voting, in a way that would drive a professional director to insanity — the class decided to focus on "Death", and developed a play built around the River Styx, Purgatory and a Final Judge.

"Voting, yes, all the time," Mrs. Henning grins again, "we vote on who would be the most effective person to play the role, not who is best. We vote on how to develop character relationships within the play. It is a long, complex process."

Everyone, Mrs. Henning has discovered, is bristling with ideas, and it is her job to sort them out. "And to listen!" She describes her own role as that of "indirect teaching."

"You give the structure and the environment, but it's their ideas, their creativity. Rehearsals are the most exciting of all. The kids must share, they must compromise and yet keep their own identity, they must work with others — I sometimes think this is the most creative part of all, rather than the end product."

Ready for "Big Time." When next year's eight-graders come around, Mrs. Henning may feel they are ready for traditional theatre. She herself was raised in the traditional and drama at Syracuse, working for seven years in stock for two years on Broadway and then on television as a teacher in "Romper Room." She came to Princeton's schools as a remedial reading teacher.

A subtle, professional distinction now arises: traditional theatre must be shared — with an audience, Mrs. Henning believes. Creative dramatics do not necessarily involve, nor should they always involve, sharing.

But some creative work at the Middle School has been shared. Black students put on a Martin Luther King show for Dr. King's birthday, developing their own dialogue under Mrs. Henning's coordinating direction.

"In all our classes — and I've had 700 kids this year — we respect one another's creativity," is Mrs. Henning's final comment, "no one can fail in this course, because everything is personal. We support and compliment kids' efforts — I never let kids put down another — we're all here to learn from each other."

PLAYERS TO MEET

For Annual Elections. All members of Princeton Community Players, and people who would like to become members, are invited to the annual meeting of the organization to be held this Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre of the Unitarian Church.

Officers and trustees for the coming year will be elected. Members of the acting workshops conducted by Dan Berkowitz will present a few scenes from their repertory.

The slate of nominees consists of Evan Higgon (president), Joanne Mohrman (vice president, production), Liz Fillo (vice president, membership), D'Arcy Achziger (vice president, promotion), Karen Cohen (secretary), Herbert McAneny (treasurer), and Allan Pierce, Ben Washburne, Jack Kamis, Karen Cohen and D'Arcy Achziger for three-year terms on the Board of Trustees.

DRINKS ON US

Town Invited to Intime. Observing with commendable objectivity that meeting any member of the Summer Intime company "is like downing two martinis, no olives, no lettuce," Peter Breger, artistic director of the 1973 summer season, is inviting the community to an open house at Murray Theatre Sunday, June 10 between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Mr. Breger, between rounds, will introduce the summer company and announce what Summer Intime plans for the next few months.

The season, he warns, "promises to be more literate in quality than regular summer theatre fare." Why the open house?

"The Princeton community has been very good to us," Mr. Breger says. "Patrons of the arts came out in force to support an idea that looked like a crazy dream six years ago and they've stuck with us ever since. When a community supports you like that, the least you can do is buy it a drink."

. . . IN BALLET SLIPPERS

Alice and Friends. The adventures of Alice, both in Wonderland and Through the Looking Glass, will be danced this Saturday at McCarter Theatre by the young dancers of the Princeton Ballet Society's School of Ballet.

Two performances have been scheduled: one is at 11 a.m. and the other at 2:30 p.m., and tickets are now on sale at the McCarter box-office. Prices are $2.75 and $3.25 in the orchestra and $3.25, $2.75 and $2.25 in the balcony.

Arthur Lithgow, former executive director of McCarter will serve as the story-teller. Ballet Society audiences will remember him as the Father in the Society's production of "The Nutcracker."

NEW SUMMER THEATRE

At Peddie School. Two teachers at Peddie School in Hightstown have founded a resident summer theatre to produce big Broadway hits in a 635 seat "Theatre by the Lake" at the school.

Tentatively, the producers are considering "The Fantasticks," "The Odd Couple," "Butterflies are Free," "Promises, Promises," "Play it Again Sam" and "The Wizard of Oz."

Shows will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday nites at 8:30 starting in late June and continuing until early September. The theatre is in Peddie's Geiger Reeve Hall on the north side of the campus. Tickets will be in the $2.50-$3.50 range.

Actors who would like to participate are invited to watch newspapers for time and dates of auditions. The founders of the Theatre by the Lake are Jeffrey Holcombe, a graduate of the Pasadena Playhouse College of Theatre Arts in California, and Frances Towne, a Princeton University alumna. Both have had experience in summer theatre and semi-professional theatre. They are speech and drama teachers at Peddie.

"RAINMAKER"

At Bucks Playhouse. "The Rainmaker" will open the summer season at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope with a performance Tuesday, June 5. It will continue through June 17, to be followed by "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris," which will open June 19 and play through July 1.

Remaining shows and performance dates are:

"On Borrowed Time," by John Osborne (July 3-15)

"Picnic," by William Inge (July 17-29)

"Mary, Mary," by Jean Kerr (July 31-August 12)

"Norman, Is That You?" by Ron Clark and Sam Bobrick (August 14-26)

"Lovers and Other Strangers," by Renee Taylor and Joseph Bologna (August 28-September 9)

"Tea and Sympathy," by Robert Anderson (Sept. 11-23)

TRIANGLE BACK

"Schlock" June 8-9, "Future Schlock," Triangle's 84th annual production, will be given again at McCarter Theatre on Friday and Saturday, June 8 and 9, at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at the box-office.

GUINNESS FILM NEXT

At Theatre Intime. This Friday and Saturday, at 8 p.m. Theatre Intime will present the film "Our Man in Havana," based on the novel by Graham Greene. The film will be shown in Murray Theater on the Princeton campus. Admission is $1.

The movie is a satire on British undercover activity in Cuba. The intrigue begins when Alec Guiness, a vacuum cleaner salesman, makes an agreement with the Secret Service to monitor Cuban weapon installations. It is an all-star cast: Guiness, Burl Ives, Noel Coward, Ralph Richardson, Maureen O'Hara, Ernie Kovacs, and Maurice Denham.

PERIWIG CLUB READY

With "Irma La Douce," the musical that was an outstanding success in Paris, London and New York will be presented by the Periwig Club of the Lawrenceville School at the Kirby Arts Center this Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Although "Irma La Douce" is in English, it has been described as being "more Parisian than a poster by Lautrec." Its action is set in the back streets of that gayest section in Paris, Montmartre, the world celebrated by Jean Gabin, Yves Montand, and Edith Piaf, with its small time crooks and good time cocottes, living out their lives in seedy bars to the accompaniment of accordian-accented waltzes.

Stuart School Senior Megan Loughlin will be singing, dancing, and acting the role of Irma. Her impoverished true-love will be portrayed by Peter Lauffer (Nestor), and Russ Etling (Bob-le Hotu) will have the role of the proprietor of the dive frequented by the petty crooks of Paris.

MCCC PLANS WORKSHOP

In Drama, Music and Art. A summer workshop in art, music and drama for ninth, 10th, 11th and 12th graders will be held from June 25 to July 30 at Mercer County Community College's West Windsor campus.

The five-week workshop will consist of the following sessions: Mondays and Wednesdays— 9-11 a.m., life drawing or music; 11 - 1, showing of selected films; 1-3 p.m., theatre production. Tuesdays and Thursdays — 9-11 a.m., design or music; 11 - 1, swimming and cookout; 1-3 p.m., theatre production and instrumental music rehearsals.

The Theatre Production will include all workshop members, with each student working in the area of special interest to him: set designing, lighting, acting, makeup, costume design, wardrobe, music and sound, or dance.

Art students will be expected to produce posters and programs for the production. The Theatre Production, which will encompass both traditional and experimental aspects of theatre, will be presented July 27-29.

The cost of the workshop is $60, with a deposit of $10 required to be sent with the application and the remaining $50 due by June 18. A letter of recommendation from the student's art, music, or drama teacher or an interview with workshop faculty is suggested.

Students interested in receiving college credits for the summer workshop may request permission to apply for "credit by examination" at MCCC.

Application forms can be obtained by writing to Prof. Jerry Frankel, Mercer County Community College, P.O. Box B, Trenton, N.J. 08690.

HERMIE, OSCY AND BENJY 2 YEARS LATER: Gary Grimes (left), Oliver Conant and Jerry Houser are back in the roles they created in the "Summer of '42." Hermie and Oscy are off to college and Benjy has joined the Marines in "Class of '44" playing at the Garden.

MONTGOMERY

The Godfather now playing. This blockbuster, which earned for Marlon Brando an Academy Award as the best actor of 1972 and which is setting gate receipts at a record pace, is perhaps one of the best gangster films ever made — and one of the goriest.

Brando as the aging mafia leader gives a superb performance but Al Pacino is every bit his acting equal as his youngest son, Michael, who succeeds him.

Indeed, in acting, directing, characterization and authenticity, the Godfather is an extraordinary achievement. The film is two minutes short of three hours long but there is no sense of undue length. (R)

GARDEN

Class of '44. This sequel to the delightful "Summer of '42" has the let-down quality of most sequels. Hermie and Oscy have graduated and gone onto college; the owlish Benjie goes off to the Marines.

Those over 40 will enjoy the attempts at period detail—long skirts and bobby sox, stick shifts on coupe cars and news reports of the Allied Armies' latest advances, but the young will wonder why their parents made such a monumental thing of sex and scoring.

Director Paul Bogart, who also directed the television serial "Peyton Place," has included every cliche about college freshman and tries to make them nostalgic, but the result is boring. The plot is formless and almost non-existent.

One would think after being seduced by the beautiful Jennifer O'Neil at the end of Summer of '42, Hermie would have shed some of his callowness but he is still rather immature and inexperienced 22 months later. PG.

FILM SHOWING SET

"Certain to be accepted as the classic study of the complex and vexing correlation between national policy and military strategy . . . must be studied by all who strive to uphold civilian control over the destiny of this nation in an era dominated by military considerations." — Ladislas Farago, author of GAMES OF THE FOXES.

WAR & POLITICS
by Bernard Brodie

Already noted for his writings on naval strategy and his early interpretation of the significance of nuclear weapons, Professor Brodie later became one of the formulators of the theory of limited war aimed at a reasonable political purpose. He has stood out from his peers, however, for his feelings for that part of society with which war deals so harshly.

Part One of this book explores the vital relationship between strategy and politics. Part Two is devoted to changing social attitudes towards war; the inadequacy of popular theories purporting to explain the causes of war; the ambiguity of the "vital interests" for which nations are so ready to fight; the nature of the people who plan war and fight it, and more.

MUSIC In Princeton

DEGREE FOR WEINRICH

At Choir College Ceremonies. In recognition for his significant contributions to music in the past 40 years, Carl Weinrich, director of music at the Princeton University Chapel since 1944, will receive an honorary Doctor of Music degree during Westminster Choir College's 44th annual Commencement Service in the Princeton University Chapel at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, June 1.

For four decades Mr. Weinrich has been active as a concert organist and teacher. He achieved prominence in 1930 when he was appointed to succeed his teacher, Lynnwood Farnam, at the Church of the Holy Communion in New York City.

In 1934 he became head of the organ department at Westminster Choir College, and while in that position designed an organ for the College's chapel, one of the first Baroque-type instruments to be built in this country, and a replica of a 17th century organ described by Michael Pratorius in 1619.

Carl Weinrich

On both of these instruments Mr. Weinrich made the first records by an American organist of Baroque organ music. These records were a sensation because of the newness of both the repertory and the sound of the instruments.

Has Taught Widely. In addition to his positions at Westminster and at the University, Mr. Weinrich has taught organ at Wellesley College (1936-46), at Columbia University (1942-52), and has been a guest teacher at the University of Michigan. In 1950-51 he was invited by Harvard University to give a series of recitals as Lamb Visiting Lecturer, the first time this position had been given to a performer.

The commencement speaker will be Dr. Elaine Brown, a 1934 graduate of the Choir College known for her work with Singing City, an interracial, interfaith choral training and service organization which she founded in Philadelphia's inner city.

Dr. Brown is recognized as one of the outstanding choral directors in the United States and her unique accomplishments were recognized on an international level when she was awarded the French government's "Prix d'Excellence" for conducting. She has taught at Westminster, Temple University, Juilliard School of Music, and the Union Theological Seminary School of Sacred Music.

Like almost all commencement ceremonies, Westminster's is enhanced by music. But unlike others, the entire Westminster student body of 450 under the direction of Dr. Joseph Flummerfelt performs several anthems during the service. This year they will sing "Locus Iste" by Anton Bruckner; "Ye Shall Have A Song" from Randall Thompson's "Peaceable Kingdom;" "Sanctus and Agnus Dei" for double chorus, organ, brass quartet, chimes and by Warren Martin who is head of Westminster's department of music history and theory; and J. S. Bach's "Dona Nobis Pacem" from the B Minor Mass.

In addition to Dr. Brown, participating in the ceremony will be President Ray Robinson, Dr. Peter Wright, dean of the college, the Rev. Arthur M. Byers, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and the Rev. Raymond Trout, chaplain of the college.

FINAL CONCERT SET

Westminster Choir to Sing. The Westminster Choir, conducted by Dr. Joseph Flummerfelt, will present its last public concert of the season on Thursday, May 31, at McCarter Theatre before leaving to spend the summer as bursary residence at the Spoleto Festival in Italy.

The program, which will begin at 8:30, will include sacred motet by Byrd, Victoria, Bruckner and Poulenc; "A Festival Te Deum" by Britten; madrigals and chansons by di Lasso, des Prez, Widmann, and Ravel; Handel's Coronation Anthem "Zadok the Priest;" secular music of the 19th century, including Brahms' "Drei Zigeunerlieder," and spirituals, hymn and folk-song settings.

Founded in 1920 by the late Dr. John Finley Williamson, the choir has been synonymous with the finest in choral singing for several generations. Its accomplishments include two European and Russian tours, a world tour, and a tour of Africa, all under the aegis of the U.S. State Department.

Tickets for the Princeton concert may be purchased at the McCarter box office.

PIANO RECITAL SET

Thursday Evening. Students of Robert Haley will present a piano recital this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at St. Joseph's Seminary, Lake Road.

Among those to be heard will be Steven Beck performing the Haydn Concerto in D Major for Harpsichord on an instrument that he built. Margaret Wight and Peter Goldstein, both finalists in the Mary Simon Gindhart Piano Scholarship Competition and the latter a winning finalist in the New Jersey Music Contest, will also appear.

FOUR BANDS TO MARCH

In Parade This Friday. Four championship calibre drum and bugle corps will keep the marching groups in step at the annual American Legion Memorial Day Parade in Princeton to be held this Friday evening.

The parade will begin at 7 from Princeton Avenue and Nassau Street and terminate at Borough Hall, where a brief memorial service will be held.

In sponsoring the event, Princeton Post 76 thus marks 54 years of consecutive programming of this service in honor of all of the nation's war dead.

The Saints Drum and Bugle Corps from Fords, the Sacred Heart Crusaders Drum and Bugle Cops from Manville, the All-Girl Royaleer Mounties Drum and Bugle Corps from Haddonfield, and the Senior Volunteers from Lambertville will provide the musical accompaniment for the parade.

When the Memorial Day parade arrives at Borough Hall at about 6:30 p.m. Friday, May 25, there will be a brief memorial religious service under the direction of Past Commander, George L. Iyulus. The invocation will be offered by the Reverend Monseigneur J. J. Enderbrock.

The Memorial Prayer will be offered by the Reverend Dean Ernest Gordon of Princeton University. The benediction will be given by the Reverend Floyd N. Rhodes, Jr., minister of the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church.

For more information call Chairman D. Don Richards, 924-0914.

SENIORS TO PROTEST

If University Honors Shultz. Perhaps as many as 100 of Princeton University's 1,000 seniors will walk out of graduation ceremonies June 12 if the University awards an honorary degree to George P. Shultz, secretary of the treasury. Such an estimate has been made by one of those planning the action.

Organizers of the protest argue that Mr. Shultz's service to the nation is not the kind that ought to be honored. "By eliminating the Office of Economic Opportunity and cutting back on aid to universities, Mr. Shultz has caused severe economic hardships for many Americans," said Beth Rom, a senior. "He is also indirectly responsible for the Indochina War."

Mr. Shultz, a graduate of Princeton's Class of 1942, was considered for a possible honorary degree at the January meeting of the university trustees. The trustees voted to confer the degree, provided Mr. Shultz appears in person to accept it — a stipulation applied to all honorary degrees at Princeton.

News of the vote, however, was leaked by a trustee to the Daily Princetonian. The student body later held a referendum, in which about 1,065 voted against, and 650 voted for giving the degree to Mr. Shultz.

President William G. Bowen had no comment as to whether or not Mr. Shultz had even been offered the degree, but he did point out that a referendum was not a part of the normal degree granting process and that he did not believe that any single university constituency should hold a veto over the trustees' decision.

Forego Caps and Gowns. The protesters, meanwhile, are asking seniors not to rent the traditional cap and gown, and to send the money saved, $10.50, to the East Trenton Community Center, one of many social projects that will lose its funding when OEO is shut down.

Other students are considering working next fall either to change the criteria for selecting honorary degree recipients, or to alter the selection process to provide more student input.

The commencement protesters themselves must wait until June 12 to see if Mr. Shultz

Square Closing Poor Idea.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It would seem that these few days would have already proved the foolishness of closing off the least attractive part of Palmer Square. It is not a pretty spot with its large signs and hideous cement pots.

It deprives shoppers of much needed parking space and is hard on the merchants, with out benefitting pedestrians or those who wish to lounge and observe the confused traffic situation.

How will snow removal be managed, and what about the loss of the mail boxes?

VIRGINIA C. WILLIAMS
77 Cleveland Lane

Give Us Back The Square.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

"Give us back Palmer Square": I am strongly opposed to the closing of Palmer Square on a permanent basis.

In a town where parking is already a tremendous problem, it takes away badly needed parking spaces on both sides of Palmer Square and causes untold inconvenience. Needless to say, we have the Palmer Square parking yard, but that is very often unavailable and offers one no recourse but to drive to the Shopping Center to shop.

I have heard of a number of Palmer Square residents who feel much more inaccessible in terms of needing assistance from Fire and ambulance vehicles, and this alone deserves a great deal of thought.

I sincerely hope that the residents of Princeton who feel as my family and I, and are very dissatisfied with this ridiculous plan, will take steps to see that it does not become permanent.

MRS. BEVERLY ARNOTT
11 Henderson Avenue

A "No" Vote Recorded.

To the Editor fo Town Topics:

I am opposed to the closing of Palmer Square on the Nassau Street side. What is accomplished by this closing?

Are you creating a greater space for the use and selling of of drugs? Are you enlarging the problems of policing this area?

I vote NO on this project

ROGER P. TURNEY
30 Robert Road

Square Closing Opposed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I, as a resident of Palmer Square, am very opposed and disturbed about the closing of Palmer Square.

I live in a back apartment facing John Street, the traffic is most annoying and I'm afraid hazardous for people crossing from the archway. I fear someone may be run down, as the drivers literally fly down the street and it has become a racetrack. This I hope never happens.

We, in these back apartments had peace and quiet; now, that is no more. The people that planned this don't have to live here, so of course it doesn't annoy them, but do have some consideration for others. To me and many of my neighbors, we sincerely hope this will never become a permanent thing; if so I'm afraid it will cause a lot of loitering and much refuse strewn around.

What about the people in those apartments in case of illness? The ambulance will be unable to get to them, also the fire department.

Many people that drive are complaining about the removal of the mailboxes. Now you have to go to the Post Office and there is never a place to park. Why not spend the taxpayers' money to a better advantage, such as a new addition to the library?

The whole idea is incredible. Mr. Mayor, please give this more serious thought.

(Mrs.) ETHEL STRATTON

Ideas for Palmer Square.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In the case of the closing of Palmer Square what is well-begun is not half-done.

The current absence of any activity on the green defeats the excellent intention of devoting part of our handsome shopping area to people space rather than automobile space. At the moment it recalls nothing so much as the words of the psalmist: "They made a desert and they called it peace."

In the absence of spontaneous activity, could I venture to suggest in a purely tentative way what seems to me pleasant uses for the site? For strollers and shoppers, an outdoor cafe on weekdays. For music lovers Friday and Saturday afternoon concerts, groups, choruses. For sweet charity, craft and bake sales, raffles. How fine it would be to have the library set up a book stall or a poetry reading, and the YMCA-YWCA bring a folk dance class outdoors!

Our city council have ventured on an excellent experiment, let us hope that it releases the enterprising and creative additions needed for its success.

ELIZABETH SCHORSKE

Backing for Brophy.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am writing in support of Mr. Brophy of Brophy's Shoes who had the courage to stand up as spokesman for the majority of the Palmer Square merchants who signed a petition protesting the Arts and Crafts Festival held in Princeton on May 5. It was unfortunate that letters sent to you singled out Mr. Brophy for criticism when actually he represented the merchants of Palmer Square and their opinion.

I think Mr. Brophy should be commended for his action, for it seems there exists no air of uncertainty about the good such street markets have on a community such as Princeton. Let's get together and make such an art and crafts festival a more worthwhile endeavor by involving all of Princeton and not just one street.

There can be great profit culturally and otherwise from a properly staged town involvement in such affairs and given sufficient time I think each merchant in Princeton can show his colors by proving that Princeton is really a quality town to be proud of and not a place that has a "once a year" giant flea market.

SOL M. SAPERSTEIN

Brophy Seeks Compromise.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

To help clarify the misconceptions of some of your readers (TOWN TOPICS, May 17), I have enclosed a copy of a letter sent to the Chamber of Commerce dated May 11. I

More Mailboxes

Snorkel mailboxes will be installed soon somewhere in the Princeton Shopping Center, replacing a pair removed because they were a traffic hazard. The new ones will be placed to please Township Traffic Officer Anthony Nini, reported Committeeman Abbot Low Moffat Monday night.

Mr. Moffat said he hoped the boxes, designed for drvie-up use ,will siphon automobile traffic from the center of town. Other boxes, he continued, will be placed in the Township Hall area.

Meanwhile, the snorkels removed from Palmer Square still haven't been set up in their new location on Monument Drive, leading to Borough Hall. Soon, promises Mayor Robert W. Cawley.

hope this makes my position, as well as other merchants' positions, on the issue of "Art People's Day" clear.

TOM BROPHY

The text of Mr. Brophy's letter to the Chamber:

As a concerned merchant of Princeton, I brought before the Borough Council, a petition signed by 84 of my contemporaries on the issue of "Art People's Day".

We, the merchants, feel that "Art People's Day" definitely has a negative effect on business. Now, as I pointed out to Council, we are not opposed to "Art People's Day", as such, but we are opposed to where it is held and when it is held. We feel that if they can find no other day, except Saturday, why not have it at Community Park, with its large facilities or Marquand Park; somewhere where it is not going to tie up traffic. Or, as another alternate, if they feel they want to have it in town, why not Sunday?

I, personally have a few after-thoughts on the outcome of the Council meeting. One of my thoughts is that after going before them with a petition, signed by the merchants, we came away with a feeling of being "selfish," maybe even "greedy" in asking them to be considerate of our interest.

"We are not selfish—we need Saturday's business to survive. It is that simple.

Secondly, the original idea of Art Day was to have a positive effect on business. Now, we sign a statement saying it has a negative effect. I would think that this should be sufficient proof, but it isn't. The Council implies and suggests that, perhaps, we are wrong or that we are not doing things right to take advantage of these crowds.

Thirdly, there is a definite misconception among the majority of people on the Council, including the Mayor. They are under the impression that there is a direct relationship between large crowds and retail sales. That is not the case.

Therefore, gentlemen, we the merchants are calling upon the Chamber to look into this matter and see to it that a fair and just compromise can be worked out to the satisfaction of all.

Dr. Moore Praised.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Board of Health of the Borough of Princeton is sorrowed at the loss of its devoted president, Dr. J. Leonard Moore. His decade of leadership, his guidance of the board and its policies were a constant inspiration to his fellow board member and to the department.

His dedication to this task, performed always with skill and patience, will be greatly missed. The members of the board extend our sympathy to his family, and, on behalf of the community he served so well for so long, we express our own deep regrets at the loss we feel at his passing.

SEWER REPORT HERE

Hearing June 14. A single trunk-line sewer with a single treatment plant is recommended by the Environmental Assessment Report commissioned by the Stony Brook Regional Sewer Authority and received last week. Public hearing will be June 14 in Borough Hall.

The preferred route of the line would take it through the Wildlife Refuge, bordering the canal, and the woods of the Institute for Advanced Study. Alternate routes, however, are suggested.

Alternatives to the single trunk line are also presented, but the report believes this method the cheapest. $19.1 million. It also would give the maximum sewerage service potential, the report says and the least disruption to traffic during construction.

July 1 of this year, is now a watershed for sewer construction. Municipalities, or regional authorities, applying for Federal money after that date, must meet the stricter requirements of the amendments to the Water Pollution Control Act that were passed last year.

HOUSING REPORT HERE

Hearings Start Next Week. The Planning Board's report on housing in Princeton has finally been completed. The first in a series of seven public explanatory meetings on the report will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Community Park School.

Subsequent meetings have been scheduled for next Thursday, May 31, at 8 p.m. in the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church; Tuesday, June 5 at 8 p.m. in Township Hall and Thursday, June 7 in Borough Hall. Sunday, June 10 at 3:30 p.m. in Township Hall; Wednesday, June 13 at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall and Saturday, June 16 at 10 a.m. in the First Baptist Church.

RUMMAGE WANTED

For Teen Tent at Fete. Flight Two will welcome contributions of clean used clothing, old records or other articles that can be sold at the Teen Tent during the Hospital Fete on June 2.

Such contributions will be welcome at Flight Two headquarters, 175 Nassau Street, between 12 and 5:30. Pick-up can be arranged by telephoning 924-4092.

SUMMER PROGRAMS SET

By Station WPRB. Princeton University radio station WPRB (stereo 103.3 FM) is branching out from the usual mode of college radio operation. On June 4 it will initiate its first summer of full operation, continuing to broadcast 21 hours a day. This marks the station's first summer on the air in its 30-year history.

"Summer broadcasting for WPRB is both an adventure and a challenge," remarked station manager Marshall E. Millsap. "We're not satisfied with being just a part-time operation. Even though our station is completely student-run, we feel that we offer a unique and refreshing format which would otherwise be lacking in central New Jersey."

In addition to the usual format of music, news, and public affairs, WPRB will carry play-by-play of the New York Mets baseball games during the summer. The station is owned and operated by the Princeton Broadcasting Service, a non-profit organization staffed entirely by undergraduates at Princeton University. WPRB was granted a commercial FM license in 1955, and has been broadcasting in stereo with a power of 17,000 watts since 1963.

SUMMER CLASSES SET

At Princeton Day. Princeton Day School will offer summer classes in the fundamentals of English and mathematics for children entering grades 5 through 9 beginning June 20.

The summer school, taught by regular members of the PDS faculty, will operate for a six week period.

BYRNE ENDORSED

By Democrats. Judge Brendan Byrne received the endorsement of the Princeton organization last week in his bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Receiving the necessary two-thirds vote of the membership for endorsement. A move to endorse Assemblywoman Ann Klein was dropped following the Byrne vote.

PCDO also endorsed, by unanimous vote, the candidacy of Mrs. Anne Martindell for State Senator. Mrs. Martindell, a Princeton resident, was vice-chairman of the state Democratic Party organization.

Unanimous endorsements were also voted for local Princeton office candidates: incumbent Borough Councilman Martin P. Lombardo and Joseph P. Moore, Township Mayor Jay Bleiman, seeking a second full term as Committeeman, and Mrs. Ellen Peterson, who is running for the one-year position on Committee.

LIST OF ITEMS GROWING

For Fete Auction. Bidding will open at 9 a.m. and continue after all other booths have closed in the auction tent of the June 2 Fete.

The bang of the auctioneers gavel will open a Fete event that has attracted collectors, antique buffs, and bargain hunters from all over the New Jersey area year after year.

In the auction storerooms is a growing collection of good household furnishings, new appliances, mink stoles, rugs. With these is a fascinating array of items that will draw the collector's eye - a variety of antique silver, some handsome crystal pieces, delicate old china including a set of Spode, a rare ink well clock, an old, old cradle that needs lots of TLC, a spool bed, Empire period mirrors, a pump organ, old paintings.

To spark additional interest among auction-goers, Fete Day will bring the announcement of a number of surprise articles.

On Display June 1. Items to be auctioned will be on display at noon Friday, June 1 in the tent on the Fete field. Sealed bids will be accepted at that time.

For a preview of a few of the auction items, visit The Shutterbug on Palmer Square. Fred Blesko, owner, has donated his shop window for a display of auction items during these last weeks of May.

Solicitation of auction items was organized by co-chairmen Mrs. William Jackson, Mrs. Harold Jaeger, and Mrs. Mansfield Williams. Collection of donated items continues right up to June 1 and neighborhood solicitation chairmen will give tax deduction slips to donators.

Mrs. Henry Brood and Mrs. John Kramer are the Auction co-chairmen.

LANDSCAPES ON VIEW

At Fine Art Gallery. Wolf Kahn, landscape painter, will be represented at the Princeton Gallery of Fine Art, 9 Spring Street, in a show now on view and scheduled to continue until June 16. It is Mr. Kahn's second exhibition of paintings and pastels at the Gallery.

Paintings recently done in the Princeton area and pastels done on a recent trip to Kenya are included in the exhibit. The artist is represented in various museum and institutional collections and in many private collections. He is included in a book, "A Sense of Place," by Allen Gussow, covering American landscape painting from the 19th century through the present.

FOR THE FETE AUCTION: Mrs. Henry Brood, left, Mrs. John Kramer, center, co-chairmen of Auction and Mrs. Mansfield Williams, auction solicitation, with antique picture donated to the Fete Auction.

4 CAMPS PLANNED

By YWCA for Girls 6-17. This summer the Princeton YWCA has four camp programs for girls 6 to 17 years old. Two will be held at the YWCA on Avalon Place, one in Sergeantsville, and one will take the campers on outings as far away as Maine.

In the Gymnastics Camp for girls 6 to 17, beginning and intermediate students will learn to use the balance beam, uneven bars, trampoline and tumbling mats. Four experienced gymnasts will serve as instructors and will host several guest instructors.

The permanent staff members are Ann Dotterer, Princeton YWCA gymnastics coordinator and team coach, Bruce Coburn, physical educator and YWCA team coach; Cindy Hunt of the gymnastic team at Madison College in Virginia; and Ted Jackson, nationally ranked gymnast of Trenton State College.

The camp will meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 9 to 3 at the YWCA. There will be two sessions, June 25-July 9 and July 11 - July 23. The final day of each session will be exhibition day when every camper will have a chance to show the results of her practice. The cost is $10 for each session.

For 4- and 5 year old girls, a half day camp will be held from 9 to noon Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. The three sessions will run June 26 to July 5, July 10 to 19, and July 24 to August 2. Specialists in physical education, aquatics, dance and early childhood development will conduct a versatile program including games, creative movement, swimming and arts and crafts. The cost of the first session is $21 (no class July 4). The other two sessions are $25 each.

The 22 acre Headquarters Farm in Sergeantsville, will be the site of the YWCA Day Camp for girls, kindergarten (completed) through sixth grade. The day program will include swimming, sports, games, campcraft, canoeing, arts and crafts and hiking.

Campers will be grouped by grade with a counselor and aide for each group. The activities will all take place on the property which has a pool, a pond, a beautifully preserved gristmill for indoor recreation, nature trails, woods and several historic houses. A bus will transport the campers from the YWCA to the Farm every morning at 8:45. They will return at 4:15. The cost is $48 for each session.

For girls aged 9-14 who want to experience overnight camping the YW has its Action in Nature program. This includes three weekend outings, Friday afternoon through Sunday evening, and one 7-day trip, Monday through Sunday.

On June 29-July 1, campers will back-pack one section of the Appalachian Trail in New Jersey. On July 14-16, they will camp in the Adirondack region of New York State; and on July 27-29, a canoe-camping trip is planned in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The cost of each of these trips is $17.50. The week-long trip, August 6-12, will be in the northeastern states of Vermont, Maine and New Hampshire. Besides camping and hiking, stops will be made to take in historic landmarks and other places of interest. The leaders will be Lisa Damon and Carol Middlebrook.

For more information about any of these camps, please call the YWCA at 924-1825. Applications are welcome now for the day and gymnastics camps. Registration for all YWCA summer programs will be June 18 and 19, late registration through June 23.

IT'S NEW To Us

OLD CRAFTS UPDATED

At New Hopewell Shop. A new store devoted to textile crafts has opened at 29 Railroad Place, Hopewell. Knots 'n Stitches offers originla crocheting and weaving by owners Ellen Goldberg and Roni Singer, plus weaving supplies and lessons.

Ellen is responsible for the crocheting and she has made some intriguing tops, purses, pillows, and jewelry. We saw a bright sleeveless pullover vest in navy, red and white, $10; halter tops in three colors to wear with shorts or pants, $8; and for the days ahead a brief bikini bathing suit in lavendar, aquamarine and yellow, $15.

A fascinating and pretty crocheted necklace is made of gold string with blue beads worked into the design, $15. In addition to the items in the store, Ellen plans to have a directory of patterns and will make whatever you wish in your choice of size and colors.

Roni uses a frame, table or floor loom to create her many woven hangings. Her original designs include various colors of wool and all possible materials beyond the traditional wool, such as wood, leather, fleece and even some of Roni's hair. The hangings begin at $10.

CROCHETED PILLOWS: Knots 'n Stitches, a new store in Hopewell, feature crocheted pillows by Ellen Goldberg, above and many unusual accessories for weavings.

Accessories, Too. The women work on their various designs in the shop, and at the moment they have collaborated on a shoulder bag. Roni has woven a green and pink front, and Ellen has crocheted the sides and straps and attached fringe and beads to the purse.

In addition to the finished works, Knots 'n Stitches has accessories to incorporate into original weavings. There are buttons, feathers, ribbons, scrap yarns, fleece and beads.

The end of this month Roni and Ellen plan to begin classes. The Creative Crochet class will teach basic stitches, shapes, the inclusion of other mediums and a project; and Weaving on a Frame Loom will include the construction of your own loom, and basic weaving techniques. If interested, call Ellen at 924-0420 or Roni at (201) 359-4846.

The store is interested in related work, and in the near future it plans to carry other textile crafts, such as macramé, on consignment. Those wishing to sell their work in related crafts are invited to call or stop by the store. Knots 'n Stitches is open Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday to Saturday from 11 to 5.

FOR WINDOW OR WALL

Saums Has It. Saums Paints and Wallpapers offers a personalized service for almost any kind of wall or window treatment. Mrs. Robert Saums becomes very involved with her customers as individuals. She is well aware that mistakes can be costly and so tries to help them visualize the room they are planning to decorate.

Mrs. Saums loves wallpaper and the store has a huge selection of trimmed, pre-pasted, vinyls, washable and grass papers. There are patterns for all tastes beginning at $1.79 a roll, and many have matching fabrics.

Saums Paints and Wallpapers has been in Hopewell for 17 years and Mr. and Mrs. Saums can mix any paint color to achieve just the toning you want for that certain room.

The store carries O'Brien interior and exterior paints and the Turco paints in authentically produced colonial colors. Turco produces the Colour Cupboard, Old Sturbridge and Philadelphia Paint Crafters paints.

Custom Shades. For windows, Saums has custom shades by Tontine in textured fabrics, canvas or vinyl. A white cloth treated shade up to 36 inches is $5.50 and extremely long lasting. Also available is a room-darkening shade and many trims.

The store has its own shade machine, and in addition to the Tontine shades, it can make laminated shades from any fabric you choose.

There are wood-woven blinds that come in wood tones, white, and many colors. These attractive blinds can also be painted to match a room and are less expensive than draperies. For a child's room, Saums has a sleek venetian blind with skinny slats, no tapes and a choice of a rainbow of colors, and again this eliminates the need for draperies.

For those who prefer draperies, Saums has a nice selection of Waverly and Schumacher fabrics. Mrs. Saums feels that these are extremely reliable and remain beautiful for years. In celebration of the Bi-Centennial, Waverly has

GLASS FOR ALL USES

At Nelson Glass, Glass for many surprising uses can be found at Nelson Glass and Aluminum Company. There are mirror tiles to make a decorative wall, which come in clear smoked, antiqued or beveled and are most effective behind bars, in halls or at the end of rooms.

Shower and tub enclosures in appealing designs of fish, sailboats, mermaids, and many others can be installed. The store takes several cars a day to replace damaged auto glass. It also has aluminum storm doors in colonial, jalousied and full glass styles and aluminum triple track windows.

Nelson Glass has many framed mirrors ready to be taken home, from a small oval to a large square in an antique gold wooden frame, ($20 and up). The store also makes custom mirror in large sizes and will frame them in any of several moulds, plain or carved. Or for the bathroom, there is a three-way mirror that can be hung on the wall, ($18 and up).

Plexiglass is wonderful for many do-it yourself projects such as boxes, tabletops, picture frames and even windows. Not only is it easy to work with, but it is also safe as it resists breaking and shattering. Nelson Glass has the glass, a booklet of suggestions, cutting tools and special glue to get you started.

The marvelous Instant Frame is here. Two packages of this easy-to assemble frame with the proper size glass from Nelson Glass and a picture is ready for the wall. The frames begin at $6.50 for two eight inch packages.

There are also many accessories such as door closures, picture hangers, and the Katy-Bar for securing sliding glass doors.

Robert Nelson is able to help solve your particular problem and can supply any size wherever it's needed — s and thickness of glass for small medicine cabinet shelf or a large picture window. Nelson Glass, 45 Spring Street, is open Monday to Friday from 8 until 5 and Saturdays from 8 until 4:30.

slave girl who is beaten and left for dead in a forest where she is rescued by members of the Chinese Revolutionary forces. Joining the Red Detachment of Women, she takes part in a raid on the quarters of the landlord whose foreman had supervised her beating and, despite orders, shoots him. Later she redeems her error by helping defend a mountain pass against a much larger force and the ballet ends with her commissioning as an officer of the detachment.

Although both the specially composed music and the dance style, this ballet is typical of the new theatrical productions in the People's Republic. It has been playing continuously for several years.

PLAYHOUSE

Camelot (now playing) Filmed in 1967, Camelot, the musical spectacular starring Richard Harris as King Arthur and Vanessa Redgrave as Guinevere, has been re-released by Warner Brothers on the occasion of the studio's 50th anniversary.

The legend of Arthur and Camelot remains intact, the lush, his Knights of the Round Table sets and costuming associated with a Hollywood musical are all there, but the songs aside from the title song and "If Ever I Should Leave You," are far from memorable.

The ending, however, when Arthur, his dreams of the Round Table shattered, asks a young boy eager to enter battle to return home to keep alive the memory of Camelot, is as powerful as ever, guaranteed to bring a lump in your throat.

CHOSEN BY THE WOMAN'S CLUB: Miss Barbara Sheehan, left, has been chosen as delegate and Miss Janet Helms as alternate for the Citizenship Institute for girls, sponsored by the N.J. State Federation of Women's Clubs.

News Of Clubs and Organizations

A delegate and an alternate have been chosen by the Education and Youth Department of the Woman's Club of Princeton to attend the Citizenship Institute for girls. Sponsored by the N. J. State Federation of Women's Clubs, it will be held at Douglass College June 11-15.

The delegate is Miss Barbara Sheehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sheehan, 216 Russell Rd.; the alternate is Miss Janet Helms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Helms of 88 Caldwell Drive. Both girls are juniors at Princeton High School.

The purpose of the Institute is to provide training in good citizenship and the recognition of government in operation, its problems and its laws, agencies and services provided by good government to solve these problems.

Each session is given in lecture form followed by a discussion period. Several hundred high school juniors from all over the state will be attending. Mrs. L. L. Burns is the chairman.

The annual meeting of the Princeton Area Alumni Association will be held in the John Maclean House on the Princeton campus at 8 next Thursday, May 31. The program will consist of a business meeting including the election of officers, and a talk by Princeton's new football coach Robert F. Casciola '58, followed by a question and answer period. Refreshments will be provided.

The Riverside School PTO will hold it annual dinner on Wednesday, May 30, at 7 at the school. Mrs. S. Sherman Golomb is chairman of the event. Mrs. Demos C. Bakoulis, nominating committee chairman, will present the slate of officers to be voted on: president, Mrs. Alvin E. Gershon, second vice-president, Mrs. Richard W. B. Jesser; recording secretary, Mrs. Michael F. Lamorte, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Roy A. Greenland. Outgoing co-presidents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gregory.

The Professional Roster of Women elected the following executive board at its last meeting. Co-directors: Ruth Ann Offenhauer and Judy Price. Secretary, Libby Ranney; treasurer, Mary Wilson; office manager and speaker bureau, Maureen Rosenhaupt, grants committee, Carolyn Wilson, job development, Helen Hiltner; newsletter, Carolyn Wilson; publicity, Emily Lambert, career counseling, Harriet Pace.

After the election, the group was addressed by Haley Bohen, Assistant Dean of Student Affairs at Princeton, who spoke on changing life styles, with emphasis on the changes in women's roles.

Central Jersey Branch NAACP will honor Princeton High School senior Anthony Bailey as Student of the Year at its annual student recognition dinner June 15 at The Green Briar Restaurant.

Bailey was cited for the contribution he made to Princeton High as captain of the basketball team. "Tony's attitude and ability exemplified the spirit of the whole team," said the Central Jersey Branch. Tony, who hopes to study law, has applied to Rutgers and Elizabeth City State College, North Carolina.

Tickets for the dinner, which inaugurates the NAACP scholarship fund, can be reserved by calling Mrs. Grace Wilson, 201 297-2615, or Mrs. Charlotte Gipson, 10 MacLean Street, Princeton, 924-1507.

At the Annual Meeting of the Rockingham Association, Raymond H. Carter was elected treasurer. He will succeed Mrs. Gordon G. Sikes.

Rockingham, Washington' Headquarters in Rocky Hill from August to November of 1783, will be closed on Saturdays and Sundays until further notice because of current restoration activities. Contrary to general practice, it will be open Monday, in addition to the regular days of Tuesday thru Friday, until such restoration has been completed.

NOTICE

Those wishing to have articles published in the "News of Clubs and Organizations" column should submit them no later than noon Monday, the week of publication. Earlier copy will be appreciated.

Opposites on Panel

A prisoner released from jail for the evening, a state prison superintendent and a juvenile probation officer will speak on June 1 at the Y.W.C.A. They will be part of a panel on "Youth and Justice", continuing a series of discussion sponsored by the Committee for Racial Justice.

William "Doc" Goss, who has spent most of his time since the age of 8 in prison, and Albert D. Gray, Jr., Superintendent of Trenton State Prison, will be joined by Father William Dailey of Peace Haven, home for boys with family problems. The meeting will start at 7:30 and will include discussion with the audience.

When a man asks for the best shirt in our store he means this:

This is the trademark for Hathaway shirts: the eyepatch. You'll get the best. Here are a few reasons why.

Hathaway is the acknowledged fashion leader of the shirt industry. They set the fashion pace. Others follow.

But beyond fashion, you get good old New England quality and workmanship. Handturned collars. Extra-long shirt tails. Buttons that stay sewn down. Single needle stitching for neater seams. Hidden collar linings that keep them neat without starch. Perfect matching in patterned shirts. No fewer than 18 quality-control inspections.

In these days of fads and gimcracks, we're proud to sell you a product like a Hathaway shirt. And you will never regret the little extra you paid to own one. Stop in to see our newest collection.

Henry S. Patterson, 46 Westcott Road, former four-term mayor of Princeton, has been elected president of the Elizabethtown Water Company and Somerville Water Company. Formerly executive vice-president, Mr. Patterson succeeds Robert W. Kean Jr., who was elected chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Elizabethtown Water, the parent firm.

Both Mr. Kean and Mr. Patterson will continue as board members of the subsidiary companies, which serve over 136,000 homes, businesses and industries in parts of six counties, including Mercer, Middlesex and Somerset.

Executive vice president for 12 years, Mr. Patterson also is a director of Elizabethtown Water Company and its subsidiaries, and a director of the First National Bank of Princeton and of the United Jersey Banks. He is president of the New Jersey Utilities Association and the Middlesex Somerset Mercer Regional Study Council, and a trustee of the New Jersey Historical Society.

David B. Smoyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer, 86 Olden Lane, has resigned from his position as associate athletic director at Yale University to accept a major administrative and coaching position at the Roxbury Latin School, West Roxbury, Mass. Mr. Smoyer's appointment at the private day school is effective July 1.

At Roxbury, the 32-year-old Mr. Smoyer will be business manager of the school, varsity soccer coach and assistant baseball coach. He will also work in college counselling and admissions.

A graduate of Phillips Andover, Dartmouth College and Harvard Law School, he practiced law in Philadelphia before becoming administrative assistant to the president of the North American Soccer League in 1967. He took the Yale position in 1969.

At Dartmouth Mr. Smoyer was an honor student, an All-American soccer player, and a varsity letterman in squash and tennis. He captained the squash team. Mr. Smoyer is married to the former Mary Howland, and they have a son and two daughters.

Mac S. Rockland, 8 Madison Street has written a book on modern needlecraft in the Jewish tradition. "The Work of Our Hands: Jewish Needlecraft for Today," published this spring by Schocken Books, Inc., New York.

Degree Recipients from the Princeton Area

The University of Michigan has awarded a masters degree in social work to Anne O'Brien, 1051 Kingston Road. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. O'Brien.

A bachelor of arts degree has been awarded to Barry R. Henninger, son of Mr. Clair Henninger, 22 Clearview Avenue, by Lycoming College at its 125th Commencement.

Henry T. Wilkinson, 55 Lodge Brook Road has received a bachelor of science degree in agriculture from Purdue University.

Three Princeton area residents have been awarded bachelor degrees by Duke University at its 121st commencement exercises earlier this month. They are Linda Jean Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lester Barlow, 217 Washington Road, Penns Neck; Carolyn Lee McGahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace A. McGahan, 40 West Long Dr., Lawrenceville, and Susan Denise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Denise, 84 Mason Drive.

Ann Marie Gocke, a student under the past two years, has graduated cum laude from the University of Dayton. Miss Gocke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Gocke, 24 Morgan Place, received her degree in secondary education with a 3.6 point average out of a possible 4.0.

A graduate of Villa Victoria Academy, Miss Gocke was Editor of the Flyer News, the student news paper this past year and a member of two top university councils, the President's Advisory Council and the University Relations Council.

Miss Rajka Vuglen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Vuglen, 748 Brunswick Pike, graduated with a master of science degree in journalism from Columbia University. Miss Vuglen is a graduate of Princeton High School and Radcliffe College.

Jonathan R. Tumin was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and graduated with honors in Political Science at Haverford College. Mr. Tumin has been admitted to Harvard for graduate studies in the Department of Government. He is the son of Sylvia and Melvin Tumin, 119 Fitzrandolph Road.

Arthur Mendel, 232 Bayard Lane will receive an honorary Doctor of Music degree from Rutgers University at its 207th commencement May 31. He is considered the foremost Bach scholar in America.

Professor of music at Princeton University since 1952, he is now Henry Putnam University Professor of Music at that institution. Mr. Mandel graduated Harvard University in 1925 and later studied at the Ecole Normale de Musique in Paris.

He is a former literary editor for G. Schirmer Inc., a former music critic for "The Nation," and former editor of the American Musicological Society' journal and the Associated Music Publishers.

Two Pennington residents, both 1969 graduates of Hopewell Valley Central High School, are among 575 men and women who are expected to receive bachelor's degrees at Bucknell University's 123rd annual Commencement on Sunday, June 3.

Patricia J. Hellyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hellyer, 24 Timberland Drive, and Renee L. Ronyecs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Ronyecs, 250 West Delaware Avenue are candidates for the bachelor of arts degree.

Miss Hellyer majored in French, was named to the Dean's List twice, is a member of Alpha Phi Sorority, and for the past two years has been a dormitory resident assistant.

Miss Ronyecs, who majored in economics, was named to the Dean's List six times and was a member of the Homecoming Queen's Court in her sophomore year.

Martha F. Stockton, daughter of Anne S. Stockton, 63 Van Dyke Road and Bayard Stockton III of Hobe Sound, Fla., was awarded a bachelor of science degree by Salem College, West Va. Miss Stockton, who received the Tigress Award for participation and service to the college, will begin teaching kindergarten in West Virginia's Harrison County public school system in September.

Miss Katherine A. Becker, daughter of Mrs. Donald C. Stuart, 350 State Road, and John F. Becker of Los Angeles, received a degree last week from the University of Wisconsin. A graduate also of Princeton Day School, Miss Becker majored in theatre while enrolled in Wisconsin's College of Letters and Science.

Steven Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Sherman, Terhune Road, was awarded the degrees of bachelor of arts, magna cum laude with distinction in physics and master of science at the University of Pennsylvania commencement exercises this week. He has been commissioned as an ensign in the United States Navy through the NROTC program at Pennsylvania and will join the U.S.S. Independence in July.

ditional design, and included the complete patterns and directions for them in her book.

The techniques Mrs. Rockland explains include needlepoint, patchwork, applique, quilting and embroidery. Along with Jewish designs for familiar and unusual secular objects, such as wall ornaments, cushions, dolls and guitar straps, the author presents designs for objects connected with the Sabbath and holiday observances.

Mrs. Rockland has "attempted to offer needlework projects that can be accomplished by following designs similar to dressmaking patterns," she writes in her preface.

"It is hoped that this approach will encourage individual expression in the reader-sewer while at the same time offering enough structure to help her overcome initial fears of working without a kit."

Richard N. Fiore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat P. Fiore, 16 Sturgis Road, Kendall Park —was inducted into the National Science Honor Society, 33 Sigma Xi, at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., in May. He is continuing his studies at the University of Texas towards his Ph.D. degree in Geology.

Miss Deborah Tornquist of Lincoln Avenue, Griggstown, is among 214 Union College student who were named to the Dean's Honor List for the fall 1972 semester. Miss Tornquist graduated from Franklin High School, and is enrolled in the Cooperative Nursing Program offered by Muhlenberg Hospital and Union College. She is the daughter of Conrad Tornquist.

Henry J. Schwellenbach, 52 Monroe Road, has been appointed vice-president of marketing of the Halecrest Company of Edison.

Mr. Schwellenbach, a graduate of Michigan Technological University with a degree in metallurgical engineering, recently resigned as executive director of the New Jersey Crushed Stone Association to accept the position with Halecrest.

J. Guy Woodward is one of five alumni receiving an Outstanding Alumnus Award from North Central College in Naperville, Ill. He was given the award in recognition of his technological pioneering in audio engineering.

Mr. Woodward joined the research department of RCA in Camden in 1942 and later that year moved to the newly-former RCA Laboratories in Princeton. His research has been in a variety of fields including the study of vehicular radio noise, underwater sound, electromechanical feedback devices, musical acoustics, stereophonic sound reproduction, disc - phonograph recording, magnetic tape recording and digital magnetic recording.

A joint recipient of RCA Laboratories Achievement Awards in 1940, 1953 and 1964, he was elected to the rank of Fellow of RCA Laboratories in 1972. Dr. Woodward received a B.A. from North Central College in 1936, M.S. in Physics from Michigan State College in 1938 and Ph.D. in Physics from Ohio State in 1942.

UNIVERSITY REPORTS

On Hiring Women, Blacks. [illegible] University has made [illegible] progress [illegible] the Department of Health Ed [illegible] Welfare on [illegible] and facilities [illegible] Affirmative Action Plan [illegible] women and [illegible] groups.

[illegible] to William R Valentine [illegible] Director of HEW Office for Civil Rights in New York City indicates that Princeton's "successful [illegible] goals set forth in the Affirmative Action Plan" was University Provost Sheldon Hackney.

For women faculty for example, the stated goal over a two year period was 20 percent of new hires or some 26 new appointments of women. In reality, Dr Hackney notes for the two years up to May 1, 1973, there have been 35 women new hires on the faculty, or 25.4 percent of the new appointments.

The goal set by the Affirmative Action Plan for new hires of black faculty members over a two-year period was 4 percent which would be achieved with five or six new appointments. As of May 1 of this year, five newly appointed faculty are black comprising [illegible] percent of the total new hires.

Problems: "We have made strong efforts to recruit black faculty," the Provost's letter says, "but in a number of cases we were less successful than we had hoped to be." [illegible] examples of the kinds of problems encountered.

An effort was made to [illegible] a prominent black scholar being considered for a Princeton department, but he [illegible]

An offer was made at the assistant professor level to attract a black scholar but three institutions offered him approximately $4,000 more in salary than Princeton could offer for a person with his qualifications and experience.

Twice in the past two years Princeton has made an offer of an assistant professorship to a young black scholar just completing his degree at another institution, but each time he decided to remain where he is.

The letter to HEW also discusses Princeton's efforts to distribute new minority and women employees among the different departments and units and in senior and junior positions and presents, in 38 pages of tables, data as evidence that the distribution has been thorough, and that strong efforts have been made in those areas which do not show substantial numbers of minority group members and women in a bin.

Copies of the Provost's letter and the supporting tables are available on the Princeton University [illegible] in the Reference Room of the Harvey S Firestone Library.

FUND SEEKS ASSISTANCE

Summer Homes or Donations. The Mercer County Fresh Air Fund once again is urging families to open their homes to city children for two weeks of fresh and relatively healthy air in the country.

Children range in age from 5 to 12 or up to 16 if they are invited year after year by the same host. The Fresh Air Fund provides all medical and insurance costs, and provides round trip transportation.

Dates for this year's programs are July 3-17, July 17-31, and July 31 August 14.

Information on hosting a child can be obtained from Mrs. Diane Monteleone, chairman of the Mercer County unit, 109 West Welling Avenue, Pennington, 737-1908; or Mrs. Katy Sexton, Conover Road, RD 4, Trenton, 799-0197.

Donations may be made to the Mercer County Fresh Air Fund, and mailed care of Mrs. Monteleone.

RULING SOUGHT

By Queenston Common. In one of three applications to come before the Borough Zoning Board Thursday in Borough Hall, Queenston Common Joint Venture will appeal the zoning officer's interpretation of the coverage restriction contained in the original approval for the condominium under construction at Harrison Street and Hamilton Avenue.

Under terms of the original approval for the project in August, 1969, and amended a month later, coverage of the 9.480-acre lot was limited to 22 percent or 90,000 square feet. Queenston Common, according to a letter from its attorney William Baggett to the Zoning Board, wants to add 12 decks to three buildings of four units each facing Harry's Brook that runs through the project. The decks, eight feet deep by 13 feet wide, would not be connected and would face Hamilton Ave.

Their total square footage would exceed the coverage limitation by 1,378 square feet.

In asking for a reversal of the coverage interpretation by Zoning Officer Donald Harney, Mr. Baggett noted in his letter that the words "general" and "approximate" were used in the original zoning board approval in referring to the size of the lot and to coverage. Such terms, he stated, would allow for the inclusion of an excess coverage of 1,378 sq. feet.

Mr. Baggett described Mr. Harney's coverage interpretation as being too restrictive.

Minor Adjustments Sought. In two other applications, home owners are seeking minor adjustments from the board that would permit them to add to their homes.

Mrs. Dorothy Skipworth needs relief from yard and coverage requirements to add a two-story addition to a small home at 19 Lytle Street. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Riccio, Jr. 15 Hawthorne Avenue, need a side yard variance to construct a one-story addition.

SENT TO GRAND JURY

In Gambling Charge. In Borough court last week, Frank A. Boccanfuso, 32 Oakland Road, charged with possession of lottery slips and maintaining a premises for gambling, waived a preliminary hearing before Judge Theodore T. Tam, Jr. He was referred to a Grand Jury for possible futher action.

Gabriel Pilenza, 306 Hamilton Avenue, pleaded guilty to assault and was fined $25. The complainant was his wife Betty Gwendolyn Abarbanel, 38 Wiggins Street, was charged with violating a Borough ordinance when she drove her car over newly-installed blacktop on Humbert Street. She was fined $15.

Another First Recorded by Princeton Balloonist

Bob Waligunda and his balloon, "America."

Princeton businessman Bob Waligunda, whom Sports Illustrated has called "the most renowned aerostatic aviator in America," won the Great Preakness Festival Balloon Race in Baltimore, May 13, and thereby became the first balloonist to ever cross the Chesapeake Bay in a balloon.

The Preakness Race, "The Race Across the Chesapeake," is hailed as the middle jewel in the Triple Crown of Balloon Racing. "It was quite a challenge," asserted Bob, after his victory, a only seven balloons in the 10 balloon race made it to the other side. One balloon landed on a boat and another in the water.

For Bob, the Chesapeake flight added another notch to his wicker basket. Last year he flew across the country, from California to New York in his balloon, "America," and recorded many other firsts, such as the crossing of the Golden Gate Bridge in California, the Grand Canyon in Arizona, the Rocky Mountains in Colorado, and even landed on a boat 35 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico.

His odyssey was recorded in the one hour Alcoa T.V. Special "The Great American Balloon Adventure" telecast last November. A model of Bob's balloon, "America," can be seen hanging in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

Bob, 27 years old and heads up Sky Promotions, 20 Nassau Street, which flies balloons for promotional advertising and country fairs, as well as conducting a balloon training school and the "World's Only Balloon Airlines."

The airline, comprised of charter flights designated by the Farmers Almanac, meets Bob's claim that, "It's the Airline with a little something for everyone, for those who haven't been anywhere, and would like to go somewhere, and for those who have been everywhere and don't care where they go!"

When asked what his next adventure would be, Bob said he hopes to cross the English Channel next spring in a race with "La Coquette," the gas balloon from "Around the World in Eighty Days."

ART CONTEST SPONSORED

By Stuart School. Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart will sponsor an art contest for interested students in the Princeton area. Entrants will be classed in three groups according to grade level - grades 3-5, 6-8 and 9-12.

Entries may be drawings, paintings, sculptures, or in dividual artistic specialties. Eight prizes of one tuition-free week of Art instruction in the Stuart summer program will be awarded. Two awards will be made for the lower grade level and three each for the middle and upper school levels.

Entries should be mailed to School Office, Stuart Summer Program, Stuart Country Day School, Princeton, N.J. 08540. All entries must be received by June 6. Winners will be announced on June 13.

SUMMER SESSION SET

By Hun School. The Hun School of Princeton has announced its summer session will begin on June 25 and continue for six weeks through August 3. The co-educational study and sports program is open to high school students and those about to enter high school.

Review, preview and make up courses are offered in English, mathematics, languages, science and history. The courses also stress development of study techniques. Classes are held between 8:00 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.; there is an optional sports program each afternoon.

WORKSHOP PLANNED

To Aid Reading Disorders. A five - week language arts workshop, designed to identify and treat a wide range of childhood reading disorders, will be sponsored June 25 - July 27 by The Medical Center at Princeton. Open to children through age 18, the workshop will be conducted at The Center's Merwick Rehabilitation and Extended Care Unit by Mrs. Kathleen Mushey, a certified reading specialist.

Based on a pilot program conducted last year, the workshop was organized to improve reading skills of area children by combining evaluation and therapeutic techniques in listening, speaking, writing and reading.

"In many instances," explains Mrs. Mushey, "reading problems can be attributed directly to congenital disorders not commonly associated with communications skills. How a child listens and speaks," she added, "is many times the source of difficulty in their reading patterns."

As a result, she noted, the reading workshop employs small group therapy to overcome multi-perceptual problems leading to reading difficulty.

Registration and tuition information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Mary Jean Metzger, director of the Department of Communications Disorders, 921-7700, extension 227 or 275.

SCULPTURE PROGRAM SET

For Children at Library. The Princeton Public Library will sponsor a sculpture workshop for children in grades 3 to 6 on Wednesday, June 6, at 3.

Joan Sansone, Princeton artist, will lead a group of 20 in constructing an octopus with six foot long tentacles and a non descript hippo type creature called "The Blob". Construction material will include chicken wire, coat hangers and papier mache. The "monsters" will be painted the following Wednesday, June 13, and will be displayed in the children's room during the summer. Children who wish to participate in the two workshops should register at the children's desk.

HONORED FOR SERVICE

To Princeton Community. Nancy White, administrator of Corner House, is the recipient of the 1973 Council of Community Services Annual Award for outstanding service to the community. In his presentation at the CCS Family Service Joint annual meeting, Council President David Johnson praised Mrs. White's ability "to translate ideas into action, to recruit long-term volunteers and to bring a low keyed approach to highly charged issues".

Mrs. White came to Princeton from Boston in 1948. Two years after the founding of the Council of Community Services, and quickly entered into volunteer work. In the late 1950's she played a major part in the development of the Homemaker Service, going on to serve as that agency's president and interim acting director.

When the scope of the work of the all volunteer Council of Community Services reached the need for an executive director in 1966, Mrs. White was appointed and served in that position, at first part time and then full time, until July 1, 1972. At that date, Mrs. White had been asked by the joint Princeton Borough - Township Intergovernmental Drug Committee to organize and administer a drug treatment and referral center.

Taking a six months leave of absence from the CCS position, she established Corner House. In early January, 1973 Mrs. White, having made a decision to continue her work with the municipal drug center, was named its director.

PARKING IS APPROVED

For 40 PMC Staff Members. Under an arrangement worked out between Donald Barr, executive director of the Recreation Department, and Walter Seligman, administrator of the Princeton Medical Center, a maximum of 40 parking spaces of the tennis lot at Community Park next to Birch Avenue has been made available to the Center.

The spaces will be reserved for staff members only from 8 in the morning to between 1

Pharmacy Footnotes

by Mel Atlas, Reg. Pharm.

Poison Ivy is a perennial difficulty, especially to those people who are really allergic to the plant. The best treatment for poison ivy is, of course, preventive. Learn to recognize the plant, and then avoid it. If you know where it grows, and it is growing on your land, make every effort to kill it. Be sure to scrub with a strong soap and warm water if you have come in contact with it. Epsom salts or baking soda are often soothing to mild cases.

For all your pharmaceutical needs rely on THE FORER PHARMACY, 160 Witherspoon. Our complete prescription department and its staff of the finest pharmacists—offer the friendliest and most complete professional service. Open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sundays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Phone 921-7287.

1,000 HOURS, EACH, OF SERVICE: Princeton Medical Center patients and staff have benefitted over the years from the volunteer service of these three residents. Each has served 1,000 as a hospital volunteer. Left to right are Mrs. John Weber, Charles M. Shipway and Mrs. Edwin A. Downs Sr. Two other 1,000-hour volunteers were also honored: Miss Therese Critchlow and Mrs. Caspar Pennock.

and 5 in the afternoon. Cars will have to be out before 5, Mr. Barr said. He added that stickers will be issued to the owners so that a check can be made to be sure no one is using the lot from the hospital who is ineligible.

"It's definitely a temporary arrangement," he said. "We'll review it on a week-to-week basis."

Mr. Barr said that he had co-operated with the Medical Center's request for temporary parking relief after being authorized to work out the agreement by the Joint Recreation Board. He said that there were about 200 spaces in the lot.

HONORED FOR SERVICE

As Hospital Volunteers. Five Princeton residents were inducted last week into The Princeton Medical Center's Volunteer 1,000 Hour Club.

Miss Therese Critchlow, Mrs. Grace Downs, Mrs. Caspar Pennock, Mrs. John Weber and Charles Shipway joined the group of Medical Center volunteers who have contributed more than 1,000 hours of service.

Special recognition has been extended to members of The Medical Center's Hospital Aid Committee, a volunteer unit which formally merged this year with the Center's Auxiliary. They and other members of the club were honored at the annual tea sponsored by the Medical Center's board of trustees.

Other volunteers were cited for more than 1,000 hours of service as patient escorts, gift and coffee shop hostesses, emergency and surgical waiting room receptionists.

They are Mrs. Charles Baer, Mrs. George Couvreur, Mrs. Edith Meyerkort and Mrs. William Wilson.

Hospital Aid Committee members recognized for service as coffee and gift shop hostesses are: Mrs. William Aiken, Mrs. James Alexander, Mrs. Paul Ashton, Mrs. E. W. Beste, Mrs. William Bonthron, Mrs. Francis Bushnell, Mrs. Elmer Chase, Mrs. John Fischer, Mrs. Joseph Grazel, Mrs. Walter Hall, Mrs. E. V. Hally, Mrs. W. S. Howell and Mrs. L. M. Hymerling.

Also, Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. Robert Mellinger, Mrs. Henry Munson, Mrs. John Nelson, Mrs. Dwight O. North, Mrs. Harry Olson, Mrs. John S. Parker, Mrs. Otto Rosner, Mrs. Alfred Rozas, Mrs. Raymond Rudy, Mrs. Edward Schulz, Mrs. Walter Servis, Mrs. Albert Stives, Mrs. Martin Summerfield and Mrs. Thomas Webb.

Mrs. Paul Herkart of Belle Mead, Mrs. Everett Miller of Hightstown, Miss Edith Richards of Kendall Park, Mrs. Marshall Sittig of Kingston, Mrs. Elon Foster of Lawrenceville, Mrs. J. T. Pumroy of Rocky Hill and Mrs. John Beck of Madison, Connecticut, were also cited.

HOW FUNDS ARE USED

From Medical Center Auxiliary. Last year The Auxiliary of the Princeton Medical Center contributed $74,500 to the Medical Center. $21,500 was used to complete the modernization of Lambert House — the School of Practical Nursing. The balance, $57,000, was used to buy capital equipment.

The list of equipment purchased included easily understood items like new overhead operating room lights and more esoteric items like a High Efficiency T99 m Collimator. The prices of the items ranged from $2500 to $19,000.

Right now requests from the Surgery, Pathology, Pediatric Depts., from Intensive Care, the Coronary Unit, etc. come to well over $300,000 for 1973. Some equipment requested will be new to the hospital, some will be replacements. The monitoring equipment in Intensive Care, for example, is electronic and has a relatively short use life and must be regularly replaced.

Is Part of Fund Grant. As a result of a grant provided by the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency, Mercer County will receive a consolidated photo identification system. Borough and Township police are among those who will benefit.

The funds are part of some $2.14 million in grants approved last week by SLEPA for improvements in New Jersey's jails and to aid in the combatting of juvenile delinquency and illegal drug use. The awards include the first sizeable allotment from $18.7 million in Federal Safe Streets Act funds being made available for anti-crime projects through the state's recently approved 1973 Criminal Justice Plan.

The $34,767 grant will enable the Mercer Prosecutor's Office to provide a centralized system for taking and filing identification photographs for the county and its 13 municipalities. When complete, the system will provide one-day development service and a central investigative photo file.

ENROLLMENT UNDER WAY

For YMCA Day Camp. "Summer Discoveries," the Princeton YMCA day camp for boys 6 to 9, is accepting registrations now for three two-week sessions. The second session, July 9-20, is already half enrolled. The other two, June 25-July 6 and July 23-August 3, are over one-third full.

The camp program will include trips to the Stony Brook Watershed Farm, Washington's Crossing Museum and nature trails, and Herrontown Woods. Combined with utilization of the YMCA's own open-space site, the trips are planned to give the campers an appreciation of nature, ecology and general woodsmanship.

yes CASH means money!

for those who qualify

yes CASH means you get the money you need when you need it!

With YES-Cash you can write yourself a loan up to your pre-approved limit, anytime, for any reason, in the privacy of your own checkbook. A sudden emergency. An unexpected bargain too good to pass up. Whatever the reason, you've got the money with YES-Cash, because YES-Cash is your personal line of credit at Princeton's First National, approved in advance so you can use it whenever you want, without having to apply for a loan each time. You can just write a check to cover the amount of money you need, and we'll automatically make the transfer from your YES-Cash reserve to cover it, or if you prefer you can transfer the funds yourself. There are no special fees or dues, and you pay only for the amount you borrow and only for as long as you borrow it. Credit life insurance on your loan balance is included without extra charge.

yes CASH means the Executive Money Card from American Express!

With YES-Cash you may choose the Executive Credit option to get an additional line of personal credit and all the advantages of the American Express Executive Money Card including:

- $2,000 cash reserve for you to use for any purpose you choose;
- worldwide emergency funds through your right to purchase up to $1,000 in traveler's checks at American Express offices around the world;
- deferred payment of your American Express balances over $100 with an automatic loan from your YES-Cash reserve;
- up to $500 check cashing privileges at worldwide American Express offices.

If you're already an American Express cardholder, there's no additional charge for Executive Credit. If not, you pay only the regular $15 annual American Express fee.

yes CASH means money-saving free checking!

With YES Cash, your checking account at Princeton's First National is absolutely free. No minimum balance required. No service charges. No per-item fees. You pay nothing for your checks unless you want them personalized, and there's only a small charge for that. You use these checks just as you use any other checks, drawing on your current balance and using your YES-Cash reserve only when you choose to. And no one but you and the bank knows when you're writing yourself a loan.

How do you get yes CASH?

To apply to have all of these YES-Cash benefits pre-approved so you can use them whenever you need them, you need only submit a simple application. We'll send you one – along with complete details of YES-Cash – if you'll send in this coupon or stop in at any of the convenient local offices of Princeton's First National.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you

By John Bernard

Do you know when the first Indianapolis 500-mile auto race was run? It all started in 1911. It's been run every year since then except for the war years of 1917-18 and 1942-45.

Did you know that the famous Indianapolis 500-mile Memorial Day race was not always a 500-mile event? Back in 1916, five years after the "500" was started, the president of the Indianapolis Speedway cut the distance to 300 miles because he felt a 500-mile race was too long to hold spectator interest!

Did you know that the idea for using rear-view mirrors on cars came about because of automobile racing? In the early days of auto racing, there were two people in each car—the driver and a mechanic. The mechanic served as a sort of "co-pilot," telling the driver if anything was coming up behind him. But in the 1911 Indianapolis 500-mile race, Ray Harroun wanted to lighten his racer and drive alone. How would he know what was behind him? He conceived the idea of the rear-view mirror, and is generally credited with being the first to use one. And over the years, many of our other auto improvements have come from auto racing.

A Day in the Sun at Clarke Field: Pastoral, Relaxing and Undisturbed by Noisy Base Hits

SPORTS in Princeton

Watching a college doubleheader on a sunny May afternoon is a peaceful way to spend time if the frustration of seeing one zero after another hung on the board does not measurably decrease one's enjoyment of the sport. Not many people have gone to Clarke Field this year—the Princeton nine rarely provided run scoring excitement—and it lost a chance relatively early to figure in the Eastern League chance at the District II Tournament.

There were, however, some 200-300 relaxed souls on hand Saturday for the two games between the Tigers and St. John's University, which is based in Queens and normally plays a brand of ball good enough to earn a berth in the post-season playoffs. This year, the Redmen were no better than 18-14 and, like Princeton, depended on good pitching and defense to offset a near-total inability to cuff the ball a round.

A half dozen rooters for St. John's were enjoying a picnic lunch (on the Princeton side) and rooting loudly for their team, but those who favored the Orange and Black just watched. A fine defensive play draws applause—not cheers—and there are occasional shouts of support from students to members of the team they know. Otherwise, the loudest sound is the traditional defensive chatter that backs up the pitcher.

Randy Blevins closed out his Princeton career by pitching the opener, losing but unexpectedly when his teammates failed to give him any runs. Blevins walked two men to open the St. John's third, one scoring on a double and the other on a passed ball.

In the last of the sixth, Princeton put men on first and third with no outs. St. John's coach, the veteran Jack Kaiser who is rounding out a quarter century career, put his bull pen to work, but it proved to be merely precautionary. Two Tiger batters struck out, one of them looking at the third strike, and after Blevins had worked a walk to fill the bases, the next man forced him at second.

It is along about now, if you care enough, that the values of blue sky and sunshine need to be accepted as at least equally as pleasant as a Princeton victory that remained out of reach.

If Blevins, whose career included two no-hitters and a rating as one of the better Princeton pitchers of the past 25 years, did not go out with a victory, at least he can remember the final inning he pitched with pleasure. St. John's also managed to put runners on first and third before a man was out, and had the best of its batting order coming up.

Randy got one man on a comebacker, throwing to his catcher, George Cummings, who made the put out in a rundown, and then forestalled a suicide squeeze by throwing a pitch cap-high. That runner, too, was erased between third and home, and Blevins fanned the third man on a blazing fast ball.

Princeton could not, however, threaten in its last at bat, and was shut out for the fourth time this spring.

Steve Crandall had better luck in the second game, getting a one run lead on a walk, a sacrifice and a line single to left, and going into the last of the seventh tied at 1-all after a needless error in left field set up St. John's tying run. In their half of the seventh, the last regular inning in a college doubleheader, the Tigers failed to score only because they literally ran into a triple play.

With men on first and second, a bunt down the third base line force forced the runner going from second to third, and the batter was doubled up at first. The man who had gone from first to second on the fielder's choice then set sail for third, and a perfect throw nailed him for the final out.

Crandall held St. John's without difficulty in the top of the eighth, and the Tigers promptly got another chance. John Cullinane opened with a grounder to third that drew a wild throw, and when the catcher failed to find the handle on the ball in backing up first, Cullinane made it to second.

Pete Korsan's bunt was misplayed, putting runners on first and third. St. John's walked Dave Mistretta to get a play at any base and moved the outfield in.

Kevin Blevins, the 245-lb tackle who plays first base in the spring, lined the ball to the right fielder, whose fine throw to the plate was just a few feet wide. The catcher scooped up the ball and barely missed the tag on Cullinane, who hadn't bothered to slide.

It was a 2-1 final in the last game of the year, and the fans filed out content with the knowledge that no mtter how mediocre the season, it's always nice to win the last one.

Two days earlier, Steve Coppedge had had better luck than Blevins — in fact, it was Blevins who worked the ninth inning in relief to nail down a 2-0 triumph for Coppedge in the latter's last game at Princeton. NYU was the victim, pinch-hitter Tony Riposta looping a single over second in the last of the eighth to drive in the only two runs.

In their last three appearances this spring, the Tigers played 24 innings, made exactly five runs and yet somehow managed to win twice. This was the story of their season: four of their pitchers had earned run averages of less than 3, but their team batting average was a fantastically low .185.

No one hit .300 — in fact, the highest man on the entire squad was listed at .260. After losing their first six in Florida, the Tigers somehow contrived to win 14 while losing 11, and when you average less than three runs a game, that takes some doing.

Next year, a freshman team that won a dozen games and lost only twice (by 1-0 each time) comes up to the varsity. There will be more home games, maybe more sunshine, and just possibly more fans.

BASEBALL PLAYOFFS SET

Start Thursday. The NCAA District II Baseball Tournament, held here for a number of years at Clarke Field, will be staged this weekend at Central Field Park in West Windsor, near Mercer County Community College. The switch has been made so that three of the games can be played under lights, hopefully attracting greater attendance.

Thursday at 5, Penn State will oppose Buffalo. Three hours later, Temple will face the winner of the Metropolitan Conference—either Fairleigh Dickinson or Seton Hall, which were involved in a playoff this week.

Temple's Owls, 29-9 and eighth ranked nationally, are the favorite. Double elimination procedure will be followed, each team remaining in the tournament until it is defeated twice.

Other games are scheduled for Friday afternoon and night, and Saturday afternoon, with rainouts going over to Sunday if necessary. The winner will play in the College World Series at Omaha.

STAFF NOW COMPLETE

Casciola Names Final Aide. With the appointment of John Brunner, offensive backfield coach at Temple for the past three years, as offensive coordinator here, Bob Casciola has completed the staff which will assist him in directing Princeton football next fall.

Brunner was a top three-sport athlete (football, basketball and baseball) in school and college in Pennsylvania, captaining his teams in football at both Upper Perkiomen High School and East Stroudsburg State College. After seven successful years as coach at Middletown High School in New York, where his teams won five championships, he was named offensive backfield coach at Villanova in 1967 and three years later moved to Temple in a similar capacity.

Brunner is Casciola's fourth addition to the Tiger staff, which will consist of eight including the former Princeton tackle who was named in late winter to resurrect football fortunes from depths rarely experienced here. Thee assistants ae holdovers, headed by Warren Harris, who came here under Dick Colman.

Harris will be in charge of the backs on the defensive platoon. Gary Fallon will return to work with the running backs and the receivers, while Artie Williams, who arrived last fall to coach the freshmen, will continue in that capacity.

Additions to the staff named before Brunner are Len Rivers, Al Wilson and John Petercuskie. Rivers, a native of Princeton and a PHS alumnus, was on Casciola's staff at the University of Connecticut. He will coach the ofensive line.

Wilson, like Brunner, comes here from Temple. He will provide instruction to the linebackers.

John Petercuskie, the defensive line coach and coordinator of that platoon, was at Boston College before coming here and served with Casciola at Dartmouth under Bob Blackman. Pre-season drills will begin in late August and will all take place here, with the Blairstown training site eliminated for the first time in nearly a quarter of a century.

PHS NETMEN ADVANCE

In State Tournament. The Princeton High School tennis team won its first round of play in the NJSIAA state tournament last week when it defeated Wall Township, 3½ to 1½. It will play South Brunswick next.

Both doubles teams, Rob McDougald and Randy Thomas, Danny Schulman and Dan Aronovic, won as did the number three singles, David Loy. Nick Van deWalle number two singles, and his opponent each won one set to split their match.

Earlier, PHS blanked Trenton, 5-0, for the second time this season to bring its regular season mark to 10-2. A conflict with the state tournament prevented PHS from competing in the annual Mercer County tournament held during the weekend.

PLUNGE CONTINUES

For PHS Stickmen. You can file the second half of the Princeton High School lacrosse season under "D" for disaster.

Last week, the Little Tigers lost two more, their fifth and sixth in a row to Fair Lawn and Livingston. Coach Marv Trotman's team (3-9) has not won since May 2, when it stopped Hun School.

Thursday, visiting Fair Lawn defeated PHS, 5-1, off setting a pair of goals by Bobby Weisbecker (Bob Turgeon scored the other.) Earlier, a lone goal by Mark Campbell was all PHS could muster against Livingston, losing this one, 5-1.

The tailspin has been disappointing to Trotman, who had stated earlier that perhaps—just perhaps—this might be the year for his first winning season as lacrosse coach. PHS buttressed that hope by winning two of its first three. Since then it has been all down hill.

"We play a couple good quarters each game but we can't keep it up. It's pretty disheartening," said Trotman, trying to offer an explanation.

HUN ONE GAME AWAY

From Baseball Title. By virtue of its 5-3 victory over Admiral Farragut Saturday, the Hun School baseball team advanced to the final round of the state Prep School Tournament.

Hun will oppose Lawrenceville, which defeated Peddie, for the crown. A date and place has not been selected yet for the game. Hun is the defending state prep school champion.

Hun broke a 3-3 tie with two runs in the sixth. Dave Clark, the winning pitcher, opened the frame with a single, advanced on a walk to Lonnie Cathel and scored on Kevin Rafalski's single. Scott Johnson then singled home Hun's final run.

Clark won his third against one defeat. He has come on strong for Hun on the mound since being sidelined with a pulled rib muscle and has pitched well. "He's taken the slack off Creamer," said Hun

Fairman to Share in Trophy Award

R. Kenneth Fairman, Princeton's director of athletics for 35 years until his retirement December 31, will be honored in September by the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

Fairman will be a joint recipient of the Lynah Memorial Trophy, which goes annually to those who have made unusual contributions to college athletics. It will be awarded as well to Walter T. McLaughlin, athletic director at St. John's University since 1963, and to the late William McCarter of Dartmouth, who, with Fairman, helped draw up the Ivy Agreement which serves as a code for the eight member colleges.

A member of the Class of 1934 at Princeton, Fairman followed an outstanding career as a three sport athlete with a brief stint as a coach of Tiger teams and in January, 1938, succeeded Asa S. Bushnell as director of athletics. He was on the ECAC executive council for three years and ECAC president in 1965. The conference is the nation's largest.

NCAA Tennis Here

For the third time in the last decade, the National Collegiate Athletic Association tennis championships will be held at Princeton. Singles and doubles play will begin Monday, June 18, and last through Saturday June 23.

Ten years ago, when the national titles were first decided on the University courts, entries included such future stars as Dennis Ralston, Arthur Ashe, Clarke Graebner, Marty Riessen and Rafel Osuna, all of whom left college to earn international status. John Conroy, former tennis coach and long a member of the athletic administration at Princeton, is tournament chairman, while coach Bill Summers will be tournament director.

Information on tickets and the schedule of play may be obtained by writing them at P.O. Box 71, Princeton University.

IN TRACK SECTIONALS: The cream of the Princeton High School girls track team which competed in the state track sectional meet held at Monmouth College Saturday are from left: Jane Frazier, Francie Walstad, Diane Westover, Karen Herzog, Kathy Woodbridge, Karen Winn and Sandy Cobb. Westover and Woodbridge captured firsts for the Little Tigers. Story this page.

coach Bill McQuade, referring to Paul Creamer, Hun's pitching mainstay, who has done most of the hurling for Hun.

Clark yielded six hits, walked one and struck out five. A double by Biff Hollowell and a triple by Dave Pone were two of Hun's eight hits. It was win number 12 for Hun, which has lost two.

Controversial Ending. Hun's 2-1 victory over rival Princeton Day School last week ended on a sharp controversial note.

With Bob McHugh on Hun on third, Creamer was credited with driving in the winning ed that a Panther infielder had trapped, not caught Creamer's line drive. Both teams has four hits.

"Clark pitched a whole of a game," said McQuade. "He didn't give up any walks and pitched real strong ball for us. We just didn't get him any runs."

Bill Hollowell tripled home Hun's only other run in the fifth.

PHS PLACES EIGHT

In Girls State Track Meet. Eight members of the Princeton High School girls track team will advance to the state meet Saturday at Ocean Township High School.

Competing against Group 3 and 4 and Parochial A schools in the Southern Division, about 17 in all, PHS captured two firsts, two thirds, a five finishers in each event qualified for the state meet.

"We did very well, better than I expected really," commented coach Lamont Fletcher. Diane Westover won the mile in 5:35 and Kathy Woodbridge won the half mile in 2.25 which is close to the PHS school record. Francie Walstad, who has been running the quarter mile came in third in the half.

The Little Tiger 880 relay team of Karen Winn, Karen Kerzog, Gracie McEwen and Dim Bullock finished third, while Herzog claimed a fourth place finish in the hurdles.

A 105 foot effort in the javelin earned McEwen a fifth place, she had one measuring 115 feet but it was disqualified when it failed to break ground, and Winn finished fifth in the 440.

Toms River South won the team title.

Franklin Township Wins. Earlier in the week, Franklin Township handed PHS its fourth dual meet setback in its last five starts.

For PHS, which was looking ahead to the sectionals, Woodbridge fashioned the most impressive win, taking the 880 in 2.30.

PHS GIRLS OUSTED

From State Softball Tourney. Eliminated in the first round of the state tournament last week by Allentown, 10-1, the Princeton High School girls softball team now has its sight set on capturing the Mercer County crown.

The Little Tigers, coached by Donald Ringkamp, have one game remaining with Hopewell Valley. Their record is 7-4.

Earlier, the team defeated Ewing 13-3. Mary Pierce homered for the victors.

PDS TENNIS ENDS 10-2

Two Tourneys Still Going. Princeton Day School's boys' varsity tennis team wrapped up a 10-2 season Friday whipping Perkiomen School 5-0. The Blue and White netmen lost only five games in the contest.

Meanwhile PDS team members were involved in three different tournaments: the Penn-Jersey tourney, the Mercer County Indoor championships, and the state championships.

Only the Mercer County event finished on schedule. Jon Kraut of Lawrenceville took the championship singles from Evan Bash of PDS in two sets, and Bill Birchfield and Rob Andresen of Lawrenceville won the doubles title, beating Steve Norris and Buzz Woodworth of PDS in a third set tie-breaker.

Finals of the Penn - Jersey tourney will be played Thursday. Later in the week both Evan and Greg Bash will play semi-final singles matches in the state tournament.

Against Perkiomen, Evan Bash won 6-0, 6-1, brother Greg won 6-1, 6-1, and Chris Miller, noted for long matches, took his third singles 6-0, 6-1. Norris and Woodworth shut out the opposition, and Cole Harrop and Dam Amarel took the second doubles 6-1, 6-0.

TOURNAMENT WON

At Springdale. A 1 up victory on the 19th hole gave Maurice Coffee the championship in the annual President's Cup Tournament at Springdale Golf Club Sunday over Lyle Fitch.

Fitch, whose 17 handicap gave Coffee six strokes, had rallied on the second nine to draw even before losing when the match went an extra hole. Coffee succeeds Bob Shillaber as holder of the President's Cup.

The annual Member-Guest Tournament will begin three days of play Saturday. The course will be closed to members not entered until 2 o'clock Saturday and Monday, and all day Sunday.

WINNERS NAMED

In Springdale Golf Events. The first mixed tournament of the season at Springdale Golf Club was won by the foursome of Oliver Houghton, Arne Booth, Alice Dorian and Rosemary Bordlemay.

Second place was captured by James Litvak, Bert Edmunds, Debbie Pierson and Beverly Crane. Following a match of cards between two foursomes which tied with a net 64, third place went to George Kellner, Don Conner, Debby Shillaber and Lorraine Tams. In all, 20 teams were entered.

Princeton High School senior Katherine Shillaber shot a hole-in-one at Springdale, using a five iron on the 15th hole. It is 120 yards long.

CLINCHES TRACK WIN: It isn't often that a freshman can decide the outcome of a track meet but Fred Berkelhammer's winning leap in the high jump last week cemented a 67-63 PHS victory over Lawrence.

among 11 boats in the Sunfish class, followed by Dick Hill and John Hopfield. In the Laser class, Ed Metcalf finished first, Vagn Worm second, and Peter Bordes third.

With the season two-thirds over, the scramble for first place in both classes is close. In the Lasers, Metcalf is first, Bordes second, and Bob Holzman third, but the three are bunched so closely that any one has an excellent chance of establishing supremacy. In the Sunfish, Tad La Fountain has a clear lead over second-place John Hopfield, while Gibson also has an outside chance.

Berkelhammer Delivers. After visiting Lawrence High had swept the long jump Thursday, it left PHS needing a first place in the final event, the high jump to cement the win.

Freshman Fred Berkelhammer, the lone PHS survivor in the event, responded by leaping 5-8 — his best jump ever — to win. Earlier, in attempting a jump over the bar in the backward style used by many jumpers today, Berkelhammer had missed the foam padding entirely and landed heavily on his back. For a while he lay motionless as coach Ivan administered to him.

Martin Willard won the 880 in 2:06.3. Nichols took his speciality, the two mile, and Craig Carlton and Coda finished one-two in the 440. Carlton's time was 52.8.

Both Drury and Alexander fashioned impressive firsts. Alexander tossed the shot 51-1 while Drury was far out there in the disc at 147 - 7 1-2.

TENNIS LESSONS SET

For Women In W. Windsor. The West Windsor Recreation Committee will again sponsor a four week series of women's tennis lessons. Each class will have two 1½ hour lessons twice a week.

The classes will be conducted on Monday and Wednesday at the Township tennis courts on Hendrickson Drive commencing June 4. There will be two classes for beginners and two for advanced beginners. The fee for the series is $10. Each participant is required to provide one can of new balls.

The program will be under the direction of Mr. Emil Wang who is a senior at Princeton University and an experienced tennis teacher.

Registration for the classes will be held on Thursday, May 31, in the Township Court House adjacent to the West Windsor Library. Hours of registration will be from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7:30 until 9 p.m. in the evening.

It will be necessary to limit enrollment since it is the policy of the Recreation Committee to leave open time on the tennis courts for those players who do not participate in classes.

PHS TRACKMEN SPLIT

In Close Dual Meets. The Princeton High School track team (4-7) engaged in two closely-fought meets last week, losing 67-64 to St. Anthony's on Saturday and edging Lawrence Thursday in its final home meet, 77-63. In the latter, one point was not awarded in the low hurdles.

Remaining for Coach Larry Ivan's team are the state sectionals to be held Saturday at Highland Park and a final dual meet next Thursday at Hightstown. The top five finishers in each event will advance to the state meet the following Saturday.

Princeton's best chances lie with Bill Alexander and Lou Drury in the shot put and discus and in runners Pete Nichols, John Woodside, Mike Coda and Craig Carlton.

The relay team of Mark McLean, Mike Clohossey, Mike Campbell and Rex Hay won in 3:59.7 against St. Anthony. McLean, a versatile sophomore, also finished second in the pole vault, although his leap of 11-3 was his best of the season.

Other firsts for the Little Tigers were Bill Frazier, mile; Pete Nichols, two mile; Lou Drury, discus; Bill Alexander, shot put, (50-9 1-2) and Fred Berkelhammer, high jump. Mike Coda and Andy Bolster came in second in the 880 and high hurdles respectively.

PRINCETON ON TOP

In Jr. Olympic Track Meet. The Princeton Recreation Department AAU Junior Olympic Track Team won its second consecutive regional title by defeating teams from four other communities.

All first place individual winners qualified for the state championship meet to be held June 9 in Warinanco Park, Elizabeth.

Highlights for Princeton in the sectional meet held Saturday at Palmer Stadium were two come-from-behind victories in the girls' bantam and midget relays. Both Susie Haynes and Michelle Broadway made up 10 to 15 yards in the final leg of the 440 relays to win the event for Princeton.

Other Princeton winners: Michelle Broadway, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash and 440 relay; Sally McEwen, 50-yard dash, 10-yard dash and 44 relay; Billy Haynes, 75-yard 100-yard dash, 440 relay; Eric Goldreich, Mark Goodman, Mike Sullivan, Susie Haynes, Jane Opperman, Julie Samaroo, Tracy Kuhn, Linda Littell, Drew Rosenberg, Laine Ivan, Joanne Rice, Linda Edwards, Marie Sheehan, all 440 relay; Kent Wilkinson, shot put and Jon Miller, long jump.

ALL-STAR GAME SET

For Maurice Hawk Field. Prior to the start of the West Windsor Babe Ruth League next Friday, an all-star team from all four league teams will play an adult team composed of managers, coaches and fathers Saturday morning at 10 at the Maurice Hawk School diamond.

The league will start next Friday evening at 6 with Lucar Hardware, last year's champions, opposing runner up

PDS Lacrosse Team to Vie for State Class B Championship Sat.

Capping its best season ever with wins over Peddie "B"s and Madison High School, Princeton Day School's varsity lacrosse moves on to the state Class B championship game against Summit High School at noon this Saturday at Newark State College.

A 4-1 win over Peddie on Friday and a 6-1 defeat of Madison on Monday brought the Panther's season record to 11-3. Previous high, two years ago, was 8-4.

Dragging after two ten wins earlier in the week over Princeton High School and Hun, the Panthers were plainly listless in the Peddie contest. After Grayson Ferrante scored midway in the first period, the stickmen controlled the ball but couldn't find the net the rest of the first half.

Then Tim Hamid, Tommy Moore and John Bragg scored in the third period to open up a 4-0 margin. Peddie's Fritz scored in the fourth period while PDS Goalie David Barach was sitting out a penalty.

Monday's game against Madison was played on a wet grass and sock mud. Bragg opened the PDS scoring in the first period, but Madison's Bryan Smith tied it up two minutes later with PDS a man down.

Tom Moore and Cam Ferrante fired in goals to make it 3-1 at the end of the first period. The second period was scoreless.

Gray Ferrante got the first of two goals for the day early in the third period, and Bragg got his second before the period ended. Ferrante scored again early in the final period with the last PDS goal.

PDS goes into the championship contest Saturday at full strength. A pulled muscle that has hampered Cam Ferrante for three weeks is healthy again. Co-Captain Peter Moore who suffered a painful charley horse in the Hun game, ran well Monday against Madison.

Madison is the only mutual opponent PDS and Summit have played this season. Summit has scored a pair of wins over the black and red, the first 8-2 and the second 11-4.

Two of PDS's three losses this season have been to George School, 6-5 and 5-3. The third loss, 10-2, came at the hands of Hunterdon Central High School, now vying for the state Class A championship. The Panthers outscored the opposition 116-47 in compiling their 11-3 season record.

PDS NINE COMING ON

Defeats Trenton, Notre Dame. If only the season had started in mid-May.

After floundering around for two thirds of the season, during which it won only two games, the Princeton High School baseball team has suddenly come on to play standout ball. Thursday, the Little Tigers demolished Trenton, 12-3, behind the eye-blinking performance of Jeff Galle, and Wednesday they shocked league leading Notre Dame, 1-0 behind a glittering three-hit shutout by Bobby King. The victories increased the Blue and White's Mercer County League record to 4-6.

Coach Don Blankenbush's club has a chance to inch higher in the standings when it plays Ewing on Thursday and Hamilton on Tuesday in a makeup game. Both are away. The final game is against Hunterdon Central next Thursday.

Galle, a transfer student from Brooklyn, fashioned as fine an individual performance by a PHS player on the diamond as can be remembered. He personally outscored the entire Trenton team when he drove in six runs on a pair of home runs and a double.

One of his circuit smashes came with two on board to highlight a seven-run fifth inning which put the game out of reach. His double in the first staked his teammates to a short-lived 2-0 lead and he hit a solo clout in the sixth.

He was just as demoralizing on the mound. He relieved starter George Reynolds after two and two thirds innings, limiting the home team Tornadoes to one run and a pair of hits. He struck out seven in gaining his first win against two losses.

Galle's heroics overshadowed some slugging by shortstop Mike Carlucci and catcher Bob Zinsmeister. Carlucci enjoyed his best hitting game of the season with three hits, including a home run in the seventh with Freddie Wilson on board. Zinsmeister, the leading hitter on the club, is batting at a torrid pace after a slow start. He had four singles in five at bats.

Steve Kopp, Wray Blatter and King also connected off pitcher Mark Laurenti, who lost his fourth without a win. It was Princeton's second win over Trenton this spring.

King Reigns Supreme. No one questioned Bobby King's ability to pitch. He proved it as a Little Leaguer and in brilliant but all too brief flashes this spring. But outs the game with Notre Dame all he had to show for his efforts were three losses, no wins and a reputation for wildness.

Bobby still has problems with control — he walked seven Irish batters — and he needed help from Galle for the last two outs, but he was stingy with the hits. Notre Dame, anticipating just a time-up game against PHS before it engaged in tournament play, got only three singles off King and was blanked, 2-0. King was backed up by three double plays, and when was the last time the Little Tigers engineered three twin killings in one game?

Princeton scored both its runs in the first. Leadoff batter Carlucci reached on an error, stole second, advanced on Greg Kline's single and came home when losing pitcher Tom Cianfrano, attempting a pick off, threw wild to first. Zinsmeister's double scored Kline with the second run.

Also sharing in Princeton's five hits were outfielder Mike Diamond, Galle and Carlucci.

PDS NINE DROPS 3

To End Season. Three close defeats in three days closed the door on the Princeton Day School baseball team's chances for a .500 season, as it went from 4-5-1 to 4-8-1 between Wednesday morning and Friday afternoon.

Sophomore Glen Russo threw a tight three-hitter at Hun School Wednesday, then watched in dismay in the seventh inning as the umpires pulled an Alphonse - Gaston non-call which resulted in Hun's second run and a 2-1 defeat.

Hun had a man on third with two out. He broke for the plate on a hard liner, which second baseman Dune Martin fielded and threw to third for what would have been the third out. Both umpires missed the play, and after a conference, ruled that Martin had trapped the ball, and awarded the run to count.

The Panthers lost Rutgers Prep 3-1 going into the bottom of the sixth Thursday. Then the roof fell in, to the tune of four runs and a 5-3 loss. Mark Ellsworth drove in two of the Blue and White runs with a bases empty home run and a deep sacrifice fly, but Rutgers' sixth produced four scores on three hits, a walk, a hit batsman, and a pair of costly errors.

Against Perkiomen Friday PDS never quite caught up in the end. It was tied 3-3 going into the fifth inning. Then Perkiomen got three runs on two hits to lead 6-3. PDS closed the gap to 6-5, closed it again to 7-6, and, got two in the seventh to make it 9-8.

With men on second and third, Frank Konstantynowicz, who had a pair of hits in the game, took a third strike to end the game.

ON HITTING STREAK: Bobby Zinsmeister continues to field a hot bat for the Little Tiger nine. He batted 4-for-5 last week against Trenton.

DRIVES IN 6 RUNS: PHS outfielder Jeff Galle exploded last week against Trenton, driving in six runs with a pair of homers and a double.

STAFF CHANGES MADE

Miss Dean to Succeed Conroy. Meredith L. Dean, a prime architect of Princeton's expanding and highly successful women's athletic programs, has been appointed Associate Director of Athletics for Physical Education and Women's Programs, it was announced this week by Royce N. Flippin, the University's Director of Athletics. In succeeding Dr. John J. Conroy on his retirement June 30, Miss Dean takes her place among the nation's highest-ranking women athletic administrators.

Since joining the University's athletic staff in 1970, she has directed the implementation and expansion of a broad program of women's activities which has been integrated smoothly into Princeton's previously all-male structure. With more than 1100 women in the student body, Princeton now represented by women's teams in eight branches of intercollegiate sport and has seen long victory streaks established in tennis, squash and swimming.

A native of Bryn Mawr, Pa., Miss Dean is a 1967 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College and in 1969 received her Master's degree in education from Temple University. As a collegiate athlete, her record showed four varsity letters in field hockey, two each in lacrosse and swimming and one each in archery and gymnastics.

Prior to joining the Princeton staff, she taught physical education for one year at Abington (Pa.) High School and for two years at St. Lawrence University. In 1967-68, she was an instructor in physical education and health at Robert Kolej in Istanbul, Turkey. After obtaining her Master's degree from Temple, Miss Dean

TO MARK ANNIVERSARY

At Nassau Savings Office, Walter Foster, President of Nassau Savings and Loan Association, has announced that the Princeton Junction Office will celebrate its first anniversary with an all-day party on Saturday, June 9.

Beginning at 9, Saturday morning, friends of the Association can register for a chance to win a one-week, all-expense-paid trip for two to Nassau, in the Bahamas a "trip from Nassau to Nassau". This is in addition to three other gifts, a portable cassette tape recorder, digital clock radio, and a portable FM stereo AM-FM radio, one to be presented each week to a lucky winner. On Saturday, and each time they visit the Association during June, registration forms will be available at Nassau Savings' Princeton Junction Office.

All day on Saturday, friends of the Association can enjoy coffee, doughnuts and soda. Each adult can try his or her luck by placing a card in a magic panel. If a bell rings, winners have a choice of a ladies' or men's umbrella, weight-watching scale, or hot tray. Youngsters will receive baseball cards with gum, plus a chance to take home a piggy bank filled with pennies, based on their skill in placing pennies in the bank in a specified time. As an extra remembrance, a 4-foot ruler will be given free to every adult.

On Saturday at the gala party, as well as during the balance of June, visitors will have a choice of gifts by opening or adding amounts of $100, $500, or $5,000 to existing accounts.

"We hope that all our many neighbors and friends will come to our party on June 9," Mr. Foster added.

GOODBYE, NEW YORK

Hello, Belle Mead. Nichols Engineering & Research Corporation will move its entire sales, engineering and headquarters staff from the financial district of New York City to new headquarters facilities in Belle Mead on or about June 14. The location is at Homestead and Willow roads.

The new facilities, comprising 26,000 squaer feet, have been erected on a 22-acre site owned by the company adjacent to the Nichols Research Center already there. With the move, this will be the first time in the company's history that the headquarters staff, engineering, research and testing will all be located in one place.

Nichols Engineering & Research is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Neptune Meter Company. The company designs and erects multiple-hearth, rotary hearth, Watergrate and other types of furnaces for handling sludges, industrial wastes and other substances.

PATENT GRANTED

To ERC Scientist. Nazeer Ahmed, 465 Walnut Lane, has been granted a U.S. patent on a new manufacturing process he developed at the Western Electric Engineering Research Center (ERC), Carter Road.

The patent relates to a method of extruding material by a flow of pressurized fluid to form a product. Mr. Ahmed holds a Ph.D. degree in applied mechanics and is a Member of the Research Staff at the ERC.

News Of The CHURCHES

BULLETIN NOTES

The Rev. Kenneth S. Dannebaum of Christ Congregation is attending the first biennial meeting of the American Baptist Churches of the United States in Lincoln, Nebraska. Leading worship this Sunday at the church will be Stephen H. Owen, a senior at Princeton Theological Seminary.

The organ fund of the Blawenburg Reformed Church is the beneficiary of that church's continuing scrap iron recycling drive. Heavy and light iron, heavy tin, old cars, machinery, lead, copper, brass, car batteries, and so on, can be brought to the collection point on Route 518, just west of the new Elks Lodge, Saturdays from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and Sundays from 1-4 p.m.

Not acceptable for this recycling drive are tin cans, stoves, refrigerators, freezers, tires, papers and glass. The drive ends August 28.

For information call Dale Gwinn, 921-6483; Thomas Skillman, 466-3738; or H. F. Skillman, 466-1067.

The Society of Friends (Quakers) will hold just one Sunday morning meeting, at 9:30, beginning June 10. The 11 a.m. meeting will be resumed September 9. A car leaves for the Quaker Road meeting house each Sunday at 9:15 from in front of the University Store, 36 University Place.

First United Presbyterian Church of Pennington, in a recent church bulletin, has advised its congregation of the following piece of graffiti discovered on a wall at St. John's University, Minnesota:

"Jesus said unto them: 'What do you say that I am?'

"And they replied: 'You are the eschatological manifestation of the ground of our being, the kerygma in which we find the ultimate meaning of our interpersonal relationship.'

"And Jesus said: 'What?' "

St. Michael's Children's Home to Close in Face of Huge Deficit

After caring for homeless, troubled, orphaned, retarded, and handicapped children for 75 years, St. Michael's Children's Home in Hopewell is scheduled to close its doors June 29 — unless a last-gasp effort to delay the closing succeeds.

In announcing the closing, Bishop George W. Ahr of the Diocese of Trenton cited the home's operations deficits, which had risen from $21,000 in 1968 to $195,000 last year. "It has been estimated that it would cost approximately $1 million for renovations and maintenance, simply as stopgap measures," he said. "We have been advised that it would be unwise to use the buildings for any other purpose because of the tremendous costs involved. They will have to be demolished."

No one argues with the Bishop's arithmetic. But members of the Diocese familiar with the home's work are arguing vigorously for an extension of the closing date until at least August 15. Reason: A fear that a sizeable percentage of the home's 44 wards will not be placed in alternate facilities before the June 29 date.

St. Michael's has a capacity for 450 children. The dwindling of population, a result of an increased demand for adopted children and a trend in child care leaning toward smaller groups in private homes, was another factor leading to the decision to close.

The children in the home include boys and girls of all races and origins. Twenty-six are between the ages of 6 and 14, and are placed in the home usually because they have no parents, or no parents capable of supporting them, or because agencies have been unsuccessful in placing them in foster homes. Eighteen are in the nursery section, reserved for children up to 6 years of age with mental or physical handicaps.

The Last Orphanage. Very few — perhaps no more than 5 out of 44 — of the children at St. Michael's have been placed in alternate facilities.

Known as the last orphange in the state of New Jersey, St. Michael's actually has had very few orphans in the past 20 years, and currently has only four, because of the reasons Bishop Ahr cited in his statement. But those factors have also led to a general decline in the number of institutions of the St. Michael's variety, thus making the placement of the children even more difficult.

Even those children who might be returned to their families, or who might be tried again in a foster home, will need more time to make the transition from the home. "We aren't quibbling with the closing. We are quibbling with the six-week notice," said one person who has observed the home's operations. "It will be impossible to complete the paperwork, go through the red tape, and move through the waiting lists that some cases will require in that short space of time."

The only other Catholic institution in the state, St. Joseph's in Rockleigh, is also scheduled to close June 29. The state agency assigned to place the children, the Division of Youth and Family Services, has been struggling to find places in the few state institutions equipped to handle such children.

School Also Closed. A parochial school serving the children of the home as well as Catholic students living in the Hopewell area, closed last year. During the past year the number of sisters on the staff of the home dropped from 20 to 11.

Bishop Ahr, in his statement, said that the closing of the home and the transfer of personnel to other stations would not mean a decrease in the special services offered by the Diocese. "By eliminating a tremendous debt we shall have more funds available for more efficient use in the ongoing programs and perhaps for the start of new and more urgently needed ones," he said.

Obituaries

Mrs. Nathalie deCastro Pierrepont, 87, 1 Haslet Avenue, died May 20 in her home. A champion of many social causes, she had been active in her later years in national and local humane societies.

Following the death of her husband, R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont, in 1950, Mrs. Pierrepont moved from Far Hills to Princeton. She also resided in Boca Grande, Florida, where she spent her winters, and Northeast Harbor, Maine. She was the great-granddaughter of William Cullen Bryant, the editor and poet.

She was the founder and first president of St Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach. She was an active member of the National Humane Society, the New Jersey Humane Society, and the Small Animal Veterinary Endowment and the Small Animal Rescue League of Princeton.

Survivors include her sons, R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont Jr. of Long Island, and John Pierrepont of Far Hills; 11 grandchildren; and 12 great grandchildren.

A Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated at St. Paul's Church. Interment was in the family plot in Bernardsville, near Far Hills. Mather Funeral Home handled arrangements.

Contributions may be made to the Humane Society.

Mrs. Fanny H. Rosenblum, 71, of 1081 Kingston Road, died May 16 in the Princeton Medical Center. She was the former technical editor of the "Annals of Mathematics."

A Princeton resident for 36 years, she was a native of Canton, Miss., and attended the University of Minnesota. She was a member of the Minnesota State Bar.

Survivors include her husband, Charles; a daughter, Caroline Moseley, and four grandchildren.

Arrangements for a private service were made by Kimble Funeral Home. A memorial service will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Marquand Transept of the Princeton University Chapel. Contributions may be made to the Princeton Medical Center.

Mrs. Elsa K. Musch, 77, of 10 Montgomery Avenue, Rocky Hill, died May 16. She was born in Germany and lived in this area 50 years.

Survivors include her daughter, Miss Hiltrud Musch of Rocky Hill; a son, Walter, of Princeton Road; five grandchildren; and a sister in Germany.

A service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home and interment was private. Contributions may be sent to the Rocky Hill First Aid Squad.

John J. Monnell, 82, died May 17 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gloria Lechowicz, 118 Ingleside Avenue, Pennington. He was a retired baker.

Other survivors include two sons, John R. of Wildwood Crest and Raymond G. of Morrisville; seven grandchildren; and a great-grandchild.

The funeral was in Pennington. Interment was at Riverview Cemetery, Trenton.

Ralph K. Faust, 69, of 34 Stanyback Drive, Princeton Junction, died May 18 in Trenton. He was a retired safety director with 39 years of service for the Crane Company.

Born in Lebanon, Pa., he had lived in this area over 40 years. He was a member of the Lawrence Township Senior Citizens' Club.

Surviving are his wife, Florence E. Faust, one daughter, Mrs. Stanley Wazolek of Princeton Junction; and two granddaughters.

The service was held in Hamilton Square, with burial in Princeton Memorial Park.

Ernest Kaufman, 68, Hollow Road, Skillman, died May 18 in Miami, Fla. where he made his winter home.

Born in Germany, he had been a resident of Montgomery Township since 1938 where with his brother, Otto, he operated the Kaufman Dairy and poultry farm. Mr. Kaufman was a member of the Montgomery Township Volunteer Fire Company No. 2 and was active in the Princeton Jewish Center.

He is survived by his wife, Adele, and his brother, Otto. A service was held at the Jewish Center of Princeton with Rabbi Herschel Matt officiating. Burial was in Beth Israel Cemetery, Woodbridge, under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Shiva services are being held daily at 8:30 p.m. through Thursday at Mr. Kaufman's late residence in Skillman.

Leonard Owen, 65, of 87 Hart Avenue, Hopewell, died May 17 at his home. A carpenter, he was employed in the grounds and buildings department of Princeton University.

Born in Staffordshire, England, he was a carpenter-joiner in that country.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ruby Owen; a daughter, Mrs. Jame sA. Eby of Pennington; three brothers and a sister in England; and two grandchildren.

A memorial service was held in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Pennington. Contributions may b emade to te hEey Foundation of Delaware Valley.

became Director of Women's Physical Education and Resident Advisor at Franklin and Marshall College for one year.

From 1970-72, she was Coordinator of Women's Physical Education and Athletics at Princeton. In January of 1973, she was named Associate Director of Athletics for Women's Programs.

At the same time, Miss Dean coaches the field hockey team, which won the 1972 Big Three championship against Harvard and Yale, and the Gymnastic Club which is expected to attain varsity sport status at a future date. In addition, she serves as advisor to the cheerleaders and as a member of the Council of the Princeton University Community.

Her areas of special interest are in dance and gymnastics and she has served for the past five years as a National Gymnastic Judge. Miss Dean also is currently National Education Chairman for the U.S. Gymnastics Federation, involving education for gymnasts, coaches and judges.

She is also a member of the Princeton Board of Recreation and teaches a program of gymnastics for children open to both University and community youngsters. In addition, Miss Dean is currently serving as President of The Association of Womens' Collegiate Athletic Administrators of New Jersey and is active in The Regional and National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics For Women.

Athletic Director Flippin said that the appointment of Miss Dean "gives us at Princeton a person of great ability to lead our programs of physical education and health fitness and reaffirms our strong commitment to their importance in the life of the University. Miss Dean has the capacity to work effectively with students, physical education instructors and other members of the University Community and has my full confidence and support as she assumes her duties."

Dean of Student Affairs Adele Simmons commended the appointment, saying: "Merrily brings both imagination and energy to this job and certainly will continue to make a major contribution to our athletic program."

SEASON UNDER WAY

At Pike Brook Country Club, Mrs. William Kelly is chairman of the Women's Nine-Hole Golf Association at the Pike Brook Country Club in Belle Mead, which has started its 1973 season.

Serving with her are Mrs. Robert Wood, co-chairman; Mrs. Peter Grimm, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Keanneally, secretary; Mrs. Madison Weidner, publicity; Mrs. Lee Whitney and Mrs. William Cooper, hospitality; Mrs. Frank Shapiro, prizes; Mrs. Jack Taylor, tournaments and rules; Mrs. Kathryn Seward and Mrs. Walter Flaherty, handicaps.

LARRIES GET GIFT WIN

From Little Tiger Nine. "They have a good ball club," agreed Princeton High School baseball coach Don Blankenbush Tuesday after he watched his team become the 14th victim of visiting Lawrenceville, 7-4. "But we helped them out a lot; we threw the ball all over the place."

The Little Tigers literally fell all over themselves making sure the visitors won, committing eight errors. None of the Larries' runs was earned. The benefactor of this PHS malfeasance in the field was Rusty Nype, who won his seventh against two setbacks. John Mooney (2-4) was the PHS hurler who deserved better.

Princeton made it interesting in the final inning when it scored three runs. Three walks, a double by Bobby King, the only extra base blow by the losers, and singles by Freddie Wilson and Bob Zinsmeister accounted for three runs. Steve Kopp ended the rally, however, when he lined to second with the bases loaded.

George Reynolds relieved Mooney in the fifth.

HUN NIPS PENNINGTON

For Divisional Title. Dave Pone singled home the winning run to give Hun School a 4-3 victory over Pennington School Tuesday in a Penn-Jersey League game. The victory wraps up the championship of the northern division for Hun.

Hun's standout mound performer, Paul Creamer, won his fifth, Paul Creamer, won his ninth in 10 starts, limiting the Red Raiders to four hits. Hun, which won its 13th in 15 outings, collected 10 hits off losing pitcher John Rufe.

Contemporary, also, and a small gem — so new on the market we haven't even a sketch! So imagine a warmly panelled living room with fireplace and built in book cases, light and bright with its whole rear wall of windows and door opening to the terrace and private yard. A compact kitchen—a joy to work in with its view of the lake. Three bedrooms, all with window walls to the garden. And everywhere a feeling of space and light, thanks to beamed cathedral ceilings, and high clerestory windows. The fine location overlooking the lake makes this a perfect home for the small family — and for the larger one, a home well worth expanding.
Brand new on the market at $55,000

Also in the hard to find fifties, a three bedroom, two bath ranch in Montgomery Township. Here, on an acre of land, you will find all the comforts of home—even a family room with bar and separate entrance, eat in kitchen, full basement and double garage. In excellent condition, this is a fine listing at $54,900

Building codes are set up for general health and safety. When they involve a house, let's say, the walls in the house, the code is set up to make sure that the walls are well constructed and safe. The walls must be adequate support for the roof. They must provide insulation and an effective barrier against outside moisture, fumes, vapors, noises, and odors. The walls must be durable and easy to maintain. Doesn't it make you feel better to know someone is watching out for you!

An assortment of excellent real estate buys are available through WALTER B. HOWE INC., 1 Palmer Sq. (924-0095), Pennington (737-3301) and W. Windsor (799-1100). In business since 1885. Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5. Sun. 1-5.

Downstairs, there's a living room, dining room and kitchenette while upstairs are 3 comfortable bedrooms and a full bath. Sit out on the cute front porch and watch the world go by. $29,500

This charming older two story colonial has a big country kitchen with the atmosphere of rustic beams and the easy living of early American. The living room, dining room, den and possibility of a downstairs power room spell modern colonial conveniences. Upstairs, are four truly colonial bedrooms and a modern bath. In the attic are wide plank loose floorboards for a worthwhile restoration. Come and see $38,900

Our newest listing is an historic 1820 colonial that has wide plank pine flooring throughout. The formal living room, dining room and spacious solarium offer plenty of space for a young family or just the right setting for the "green thumb" of an appreciative horticulturist. The convenient modern eat-in kitchen has vinyl brick tile to keep with the authentic charm, completing the downstairs is a nice powder room and a back stairway for some inquiring youngster. Upstairs are 3 comfortable colonial bedrooms and a full bath. Completely treed and shrubbed, including a pair of 150 year old maple trees in fine condition that were planted for the bride and groom when they originally built the house. $53,500

A Princeton town house within walking distance of the University has just come on the market. You can walk to schools, shopping and virtually everything. The living room has a fireplace and built in bookcases; the dining room is early American; the kitchen is modern and the family room is nice and light with a picture window overlooking the patio and garden; upstairs are 1 delightful bedrooms and 2 full baths, downstairs is a 5th bedroom or teenagers hideaway with fireplace and half bath. $60,500

Formal gardens overlooking a gorgeous free form pool are the setting for a magnificent brick colonial in the Princeton Western section. From the foyer with its winding staircase opposite the library to the sunken living room with a view from the terrace, formal elegance is the obvious keynote. Upstairs are 5 comfortably large bedrooms and 4 full baths. Complete with a servant's wing and surrounded by acres of Princeton's best land. Be sure to call for an appointment. $225,000

Princeton Rental — 4 bedroom colonial in Borough. Living room with fireplace, dining room, eat-in kitchen, family room. One year lease or more. $460 per month
